GENERAL SCOTT WILL ASK CO-OPERATION OF THE MEXICAN TROOPS

This is Most Effective Way for Carranza to Secure Early Withdrawal of Americans.

BANDIT RAIDS MUST STOP

Obregon Expected at Border Today for Conference—Americans to Renew Pursuit.

DODD IN ANOTHER CLASH

Two of His Men and Six Villistas are Killed in Battle.

Washington, April 26.—General instructions for the assistance of Major General Scott at his forthcoming conference with Carranza war minister, General Obregon, were drafted by Secretary Baker today after brief conferences with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. General Obregon was due at Eagle Pass tonight.

The only official statement as to the nature of the instructions was the following issued by Secretary Baker:

"The instructions are to discuss a basis for the most cordial and complete co-operation between the American and Mexican forces in the attainment of their common object."

While the immediate object of the conference is, as stated, a question of military dispositions to end bandit operations along the border, there is no doubt that its result will have a strong influence upon the diplomatic negotiations between the two governments.

Must Remove Danger of Raids.

It is considered certain that General Obregon will carry back to Mexico City a definite impression that the American troops will remain in the positions to which General Funston now is shifting them as a buffer between the disturbed area of Northern Mexico and the border, until the score of the Carranza forces in pursuing the bandits removes the danger of further raids on American towns.

The conference will give General Carranza advance notice of the attitude the United States will take in replying to his note of April 12, suggesting the withdrawal of the forces. Officials hope, however, that its more immediate result will be to clear away the misunderstanding and suspicion with which the movements of American troops have been regarded by local Mexican commanders and officials; to free supply shipments for the troops from interference and perhaps to make possible real joint operations for the capture of Villa.

While it is not known that the order mentions Villa, General Scott may point out to General Obregon that the most effective way to secure early withdrawal of the American forces from Mexico would be to lend all possible aid in the chase for the bandit.

The presence of the American forces on their new lines will narrow the chase materially if the Carranza government desires to undertake it unaided, or make possible effective cooperation if joint operations are preferred.

A renewal of the hunt for the bandit by American troopers now is in progress, both official reports from General Funston and border advices disclosed. The cavalrymen, despite the worn condition of their mounts, are beating the mountains where Villa adherents have been assembling during the lull in the chase after the Parral incident. No information as to the whereabouts of Villa himself has been received. The War Department gave out this dispatch from General Funston:

Dodd's Forces in Another Clash.

"Following just received from General Pershing:

"'Namiquipa, April 25. A report dated April 24th received today from Colonel Dodd states that he overtook a band of Villistas near Tomachic on 22nd at 4:30 P. M. killing six and wounding 19 others, many probably fatally. Twenty-five horses were captured. Our loss two killed and three wounded. Fight lasted until after dark. Impossible to tell definitely loss of Villistas. Dodd's column when previously heard from was at Penachic on the 17th. Country reported very rough. March made over difficult mountain trails. Villistas reported under leadership of Cervantes, Rios Bacs and Dominguez, number 150 to 200. Bacs reported killed yesterday at Santa Tomas. Do not give entire credit to report of his death. Our killed at Tomachic were Ralph A. Raw, saddler, troop L, 7th cavalry; Private Oliver Bonshee, troop H, 7th cavalry. Wounded, Thomas Henry, 7th cavalry; Tillman T. Mathias, troop L, 7th cavalry. Dodd returning to Minaca.'"

A second dispatch from General Funston follows:

"Late reports from Colonel Erwin state that on the 20th instant a scouting party from his command encountered small body of Villistas near Comoracchic and mortally wounded four. Wounded in Dodd's command doing well and none expected to die."

Special Agent Rodgers, at Mexico City, telegraphed the State Department today that the Carranza government had agreed to remove all restrictions on exportation of leather and hides effective May 1, but refuse any concession from its new mining decree.

DUBLIN SITUATION IS UNDER CONTROL

Martial Law Declared in City and County as Result of Revolutionary Outbreak.

YARMOUTH ALSO ATTACKED

Four Killed and Twelve Wounded There in German Cruiser Raid. Berlin Reports Naval Engagement Off Flanders.

Martial law has been declared in the city and county of Dublin as a result of the revolutionary outbreak in Dublin city. The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland reports the situation in Dublin is satisfactory and says provincial advices are reassuring. Several positions taken by the revolutionists, notably St. Stephens Green, have been recaptured by the government forces, and Liberty Hall, headquarters of the Sinn Fein party, has been seized.

Both Lowestoft and Yarmouth were bombarded by the German cruiser squadron which attacked the eastern coast of England Tuesday. Four persons were killed and 12 wounded in the attack and considerable material damage was done.

Germans Suffer No Losses.

Berlin reports that in this raid the steamer King Stephen was sunk and her crew captured, and also that a destroyer and a scout boat were sunk and a cruiser set on fire. The Germans suffered no losses. Great Britain has acknowledged that two cruisers and a destroyer were hit, but said no vessel was sunk. It was the King Stephen which recently refused to give aid to the crew of the Zeppelin L-19 while the airship was adrift in the North Sea.

A report from Berlin also says there was another engagement between British and German warcraft off the coast of Flanders Tuesday in which a British destroyer was damaged and an auxiliary steamer sunk, the crew of the latter being made prisoners.

Extensive Zeppelin Raid.

London, Colchester, Blackwater and Ramsgate and other English towns and a large British supply depot at Etaples, France, were attacked by Zeppelins Tuesday night, according to Berlin. London asserts that 100 bombs were dropped in this raid but that no casualties have been reported and that the damage was slight. Paris says two British soldiers were killed at Etaples but that only insignificant material damage was done.

London, April 27. — A British official statement says:

"Zeppelins were reported over the east coast of Kent, between 10 and 11 o'clock Wednesday night. No reports of their penetrating far inland have been received thus far, and as it is misty over East Kent, it is probable that they turned back before midnight. It is reported that one bomb was dropped, which fell into the sea."

HOMICIDE LAST NIGHT IN CITY OF GOLDSBORO

Leonard Edwards Shot to Death on Father's Porch.

Hyman Epstein Immediately Surrenders to Officers and is Placed in Jail—Both Members of Prominent Jewish Families.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Goldsboro, N. C., April 26.—This city was thrown again into a fever of excitement tonight between 8 and 9 o'clock when it was reported that Hyman Epstein, 21 years old, a son of M. M. Epstein, a prominent clothier, had gone to the home of Leonard Edwards, son of Asher Edwards, also prominently connected, called him out and shot him dead on his father's porch.

While all kinds of rumors are afloat, it is stated that the young men, both members of prominent Jewish families, had feeling towards one another because of Edwards' having asked Epstein to cease paying attention to his, Edwards', sister. This is said to have greatly angered young Epstein who is said to have gone tonight across town to Edwards' father's house, called him out and shot him through the heart as he appeared in his doorway. Edwards, who is about 30 years old and manages a livery business here for his father, fell mortally wounded on the porch.

Immediately after the shooting Epstein came down town and gave himself up to the authorities, and was placed in jail tonight without bond.

The coroner of the county has been notified and tomorrow will conduct an investigation into all the circumstances of the killing.

POLICY AS TO GUNS ON SHIPS OUTLINED

Official Declaration of the American Attitude is Issued by Secretary Lansing.

MAY AFFECT GERMAN REPLY

Clearly Sets Forth Conditions Under Which the United States Holds Submarines May Make Attacks on Merchant Craft.

Washington, April 26. — An official declaration of the attitude of the United States toward armed merchant ships, made public today by Secretary Lansing, reiterates and explains the purpose of the American government to recognize the right of peaceful vessels to carry arms for defense and at the same time, while referring only to warships generally, clearly sets forth the conditions under which the United States holds submarines may attack merchant craft.

The declaration was issued in the form of a memorandum prepared by Mr. Lansing at President Wilson's directions during the Secretary's brief vacation last month. Copies of it were given to each of the embassies and legations here, and while no official explanation was forthcoming as to the purpose of publishing the memorandum at this time, it is assumed that at least the substance of it will reach the Berlin foreign office before a reply is dispatched to the American demand for abandonment of Germany's present methods of submarine warfare. This would serve to answer in advance certain questions which cable dispatches have indicated the German government was inclined to ask. In connection with the memorandum, it was stated that the State Department now was awaiting a response from Great Britain to a request for copies of orders to armed British merchant vessels.

During the long drawn out negotiations following the sinking of the Lusitania, Secretary Lansing has stated in general terms nearly all of the postulates which he lays down in today's declaration.

An effort is made to differentiate between an armed ship in a neutral port and the vessel on the high seas. In the first came, it is shown that the United States government is concerned solely to protect itself against any charges that might be made by one of the belligerents that it had allowed American ports to be used as a base for hostile operations by its enemy.

Mr. Lansing insists that the neutral government is to be the sole judge of the status of armed merchant ships in its ports in the absence of any settled rule of international law. A commission or orders from a belligerent government to conduct aggressive operations under penalty of punishment for failure to do so would stamp the vessel as a warship. In the absence of such evidence, the neutral government may lay down its own rules of evidencee to determine the character, and, moreover, these rules, unlike principles of international law, may be changed or modified during the progress of the war.

Commenting on this portion of the memorandum, a high official of the State Department admitted that the refusal of the American port authorities

CHARLES TRABUE HELD UNDER A $25,000 BOND

For Killing H. S. Stokes, Prominent Nashville Lawyer.

Shooting Occurred in Murdered Man's Office While He and Trabue Were Closeted Together—Had Had Frequent Legal Clashes.

Nashville, Tenn., April 26.—Charles Trabue, prominent Nashville lawyer, who this morning shot and killed Harry S. Stokes, chief counsel for the tax payers in a court investigation of the city government, was released from arrest late today on $25,000 bond.

When arraigned before a justice of the peace Trabue Waived examination, and was bound over to the criminal court. Bond quickly was arranged, several prominent men whose wealth totals millions of dollars volunteering their signatures.

Circumstances surrounding the killing, which occurred in Stoke's office while the two lawyers were closeted together, had not been fully revealed tonight. Trabue has refused to make any statement. Several attorneys and stenographers who were in adjoining rooms say they heard no sounds of a struggle.

Immediately after the shooting Trabue came out of the office, announced quickly that he had killed Stokes and submitted to arrest.

There had been frequent clashes between the two yawlers during court proceedings in the city investigation. Trabue several times complained to Commissioner Bailey, presiding in the proceedings, that he regarded Stokes' remarks about him as contemptuous. Exchanges had become so bitter that the commissioner ordered the attorneys to address all their remarks to the court and not to each other.

Trabue represents the city in the litigation.

Families of both men are prominent.

STEAMSHIP KING STEPHEN IS SUNK

Crew of British Ship Which Refused to Rescue Crew of Zeppelin L-19 is Captured.

IN GERMAN CRUISER RAID

Destroyer and Another Scout Boat Also Sent Down, According to Berlin Statement—Damage by Air Raid at Dunkirk.

Berlin, (via London), April 26.—The German naval forces, which bombarded Lowestoft yesterday, sank the steamer King Stephen and captured her crew, it was officially announced today. This is the same steamer that refused to rescue the crew of the Zeppelin L-19 which dropped into the North Sea. It was also announced that a destroyer and another scout boat were sunk and that on one of the cruisers attacked a bad fire was observed. The official statement on the raid is as follows:

"At daybreak, parts of our high sea forces bombarded with good success the fortifications and important military buildings at Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft and afterwards opened fire on a group of enemy airmen, small cruisers and destroyers.

"On one cruiser a big fire was observed. One destroyer and two enemy scout boats were sunk, one of the latter being the English fishing steamer King Stephen, which formerly refused to save the crew of the German airship L-19 when in distress. The crew of the fishing steamer was taken prisoner. The remaining enemy naval forces withdrew. On our shide there were no losses, and all the ships returned undamaged.

"Simultaneously with the attack of our naval forces a naval air squadron attacked, on the night of April 24-25 the eastern counties of England. Bombs were thrown with good effect on industrial buildings at Cambridge and Norwich railway buildings near Lincoln, batteries near Winteren, Ipswich, Norwich and Harwich, as well as enemy reconnoitering ships on the English coast. Despite a violent bombardment all the airships landed untouched in home harbors.

"Aeroplanes of our naval air detachment early on Tuesday morning pelted effectively with bombs harbor works, fortifications and the aerodrome at Dunkirk. All returned undamaged.

"The previously reported outpost encounters off the Flanders coast on Monday were continued on Tuesday. A British destroyer was badly damaged by our naval forces and an auxiliary steamer sunk and the crew captured and taken to Zeebrugge. Our forces also returned from these enterprises undamaged. The enemy withdrew again from the region of the Flanders coast."

GERMANY PREPARED TO PAY FOR SHIPS SUNK

Robert Fay is Quoted as Having Informed Carl L. Wittig.

Witness in United States Court Tells of Conversations He had With Fay and Scholz Regarding Placing Bombs on Ships.

New York, April 26.—The German government was prepared to pay $500,000 each for the destruction of ships loaded with war supplies for the Entente Allies, Lieut. Robert Fay, of the German army, on trial in the United States court for conspiracy, was quoted today as having informed Carl L. Wittig, a witness for the prosecution.

"I asked him," testified Wittig, a chemical engineer, "if he knew what $500,000 was, and he replied that money was no object in this thing."

Wittig, who declared his sympathies in the war were with France, told of informing the French embassy of his conversations with Fay. The embassy in turn notified the New York police.

On trial with Fay are his brother-in-law, Walter Scholz, and Paul Daeche. Wittig said he told Fay and Scholz that in placing bombs on ships with which they were unfamiliar they "were placing innocent people in jeopardy."

"Scholz declared," added the witness, "that they knew what they were doing; that Max Breitung was telling them on which ships ammunition was being shipped. Breitung also is under indictment for the alleged conspiracy.

EMPEROR WILLIAM Of Germany

EMPEROR WILLIAM DESIRES TO FOLLOW COURSE WHICH WILL END PRESENT CRISIS

Berlin More Optimistic Because of Impending Developments in Submarine Situation—Information Obtained by The Associated Press Indicates Outlook Has Improved—Reply to American Note Probably Not Before Next Week.

Berlin, April 26, (By Wireless to the Associated Press from a staff correspondent)—The Associated Press learns that developments are impending which demonstrate unmistakably the desire of Emperor William to follow a course which will lead Germany and the United States out of the present crisis. The situation is viewed more optimistically here.

Ambassador Gerard is still maintaining silence, following his latest conference with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, but the Associated Press has been able to obtain information from other sources indicating that the outlook has improved.

The latest indications are that the German reply to the American note may not be delivered until next week.

SAYS GERMANY SHOULD BE GUIDED BY OWN INTERESTS

Berlin, April 26(via wireless)—The Lokal Anzeiger today prints an interview with a statesman concerning the American note who is quoted as saying that in the present situation Germany should follow none but her own interests.

In a leader the newspaper says that Germany, while declining America's supervision of her warfare, must examine patiently and in a just manner the American demands in order to see how far she can accept them without endangering her self-respect and vital interests.

PRESS SEES POSSIBILITY TO RETAIN GOOD RELATIONS

Berlin, (vi aLondon), April 27.—The situation is summed up by the Morgan Post as follows:

"The possibility of avoiding a conflict still exists if the same good will is present on the American side as with us. But the seriousness of the conflict must not be under-estimated."

The Lokal Anzeiger says:

"Local German-American circles yesterday were more hopeful in the views taken of the diplomatic situation between the two nations than on preceding days. This feeling found expression especially in certain business negotiations which took the regular course without being influenced by political conditions."

WILSON AND STONE DISCUSS FOREIGN RELATIONS PROBLEMS

Washington, April 26.—President Wilson and Senator Stone, chairman of Senate Foreign Relations committee, discussed for an hour tonight international questions facing the United States, including the submarine controversy with Germany, the Mexican situation and Japan's protest against features in the House Immigration bill which will be taken up by the Senate Immigration committee tomorrow.

The conference was devoted chiefly to the submarine issue. While Senator Stone would not discuss the details, it is known that eventualities which may follow the receipt of Germany's reply to the last note sent by the United States were gone over thoroughly. The President has not given up hope that a break in diplomatic relations with Germany may be avoided.

Senator Stone will lay the results of his conference with the President before the Foreign Relations committee. He left the conference apparently satisfied with his results.

Secretary Lansing received today a report from Ambassador Gerard in Berlin of a conference between the latter and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg. The secretary would not discuss the report except to say it was brief and required no reply.

Count von Bernstorff has sent to his foreign office suggestions on the submarine question which he hopes will prevent a break in diplomatic relations with the United States. The suggestions were sent in response to a request from Berlin and will be considered at a conference between the imperial chancellor and the kaiser.

STRAWBERRY CROP GOOD

About 1,200 Cars, it is Estimated, Will Be Shipped From Carolinas.

Washington, April 26.—The strawberry crop of the Carolinas this season will be about 1,200 cars, the Department of Agriculture today announced, basing its estimate on reports from its representatives and from railway officials.

Reports indicate the crops is in good condition and with continued good weather there is a potential movement from this territory of well over a thousand cars if prices justify shipment.

To date 30 cars have been shipped from North Carolina and one from South Carolina, the department says.

TRIED TO GET SURVIVORS TO SUE STEAMSHIP LINE

German Agents to Shift Responsibility for Sinking Lusitania.

New York, April 26.—Charges that German agents had sought to shift responsibility for the sinking of the steamship Lusitania to the Cunard Steamship Company by attempting to persuade survivors to sue the owners of the liner for damages on the ground of negligence were made at a meeting here today of persons who were passengers on the ill-starred vessel. Joseph L. Myers and James L. Leary declared they had been approached by a lawyer now under indictment for alleged violation of the neutrality laws and told that if they would bring suits against the Cunard Line for $50,000 he would see that they received the money whether or not they won their case.

The meeting was called to take measures for concerted action by survivors to recover for losses. The survivors were advised that their primary claim is against the German government.

Torreon, Mex., April 26.—American Consul Coen, at Durango City, has advised all Americans to leave the city and is himself considering the advisability of going to the border. A serious situation has been caused through the violent anti-American agitation which has been carried on by the Durango newspapers since the American soldiers and Mexicans clashed at Parral.

EVANGELIST USES CONCRETE EXAMPLE TO TEACH TRUTH

That Great Majority of People Become Christians in Early Life, if Ever.

MOTHERS' DAY OBSERVED

Afternoon Service of Chapman-Alexander Meeting Yesterday an Impressive One.

Practically two-thirds of the audience of more than 4,000 people who attended the service last night in the Tabernacle for the Chapman-Alexander meetings in Wilmington rose to their feet when Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman as an illustration to the truthfulness of the statement that most people became Christians in early life requested all to stand who had made decisions for Christ between the ages of eight and 18 years. Only two of the vast audience rose when he asked those who had become Christians after the age of 50 to stand.

Yesterday was another red letter day in the great revival campaign that is now being conducted in Wilmington. The afternoon service was in the nature of a special observance of Mother's day. At the close of this meeting scores of mothers came forward with their children in response to the evangelist's invitation, the scene being one of the most touching that has been witnessed in this city in many months.

Another splendid meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. last evening when the "Committee of One Hundred" met for supper. Dr. Chapman made a short address and his co-workers, Mr. Charles M. Alexander, led the men in the singing of a familiar hymn. Five hundred or more children attended the service at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon to hear another illustrated lecture by Rev. C. T. Schaeffer, who is meeting with wonderful success in his work among the young people. Of these 300 were from the Union school.

Many Delegations Attend.

The service last night was featured by the attendance of a number of delegations. The Sunday school of the First Baptist church, 300 strong, marched in a body from the church edifice, while the Junior Order and the Odd Fellows, more than 100 in number, marched from their halls and the men of Delgado, numbering more than 100, occupied seats especially reserved for them. Of all the delegations none created more interest than the Camp Fire Girls, especially when the 36 young ladies, led by Miss Anna Troutt, at the close of the service, went up the aisle of the Tabernacle in a body to meet the evangelist as a pledge of their decision to live for Christ. Dr. Chapman welcomed each delegation and expressed his sincere appreciation of their interest.

Tonight the railroad employes of the city will attend the service in a body. The business women of the city will meet at the First Presbyterian church for supper at 6 o'clock this evening and go in a body to the Tabernacle.

As the delegations arrived at the Tabernacle, Mr. Charles M. Alexander had the choir sing "Onward Chrisflan Soldiers." The song service was one of the most helpful features of both the afternoon and evening services. Mr. Alexander had the audience sing many of the selections that have already become familiar such as the "Ivory Palaces," "Lean on His Arms," and "Beulah Land." In none did the audience join with more interest than in the old hymn, "How Firm a Foundation."

Dr. J. M. Wells announced last night that Dr. Chapman would meet all the Sunday school superintendents of the city at the Chamber of Commerce this morning at 11:30 o'clock for a conference. This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Dr. Chapman will preach another one of his great sermons, "The Second Mile." Tonight at 7:30 o'clock another service will be held at the Tabernacle, Rev. C. T. Schaeffer will conduct a service for young people at the First Baptist church at 3:30 o'clock.

Taking as his text, "Send the lad with me; I will be surety for him," Dr. Chapman last night made an earnest appeal to fathers and mothers that they would give heed to the spiritual welfare of their children. Using the story of Joseph as an illustration he brought home the great importance of starting children in the right path and showed the splendid rewards of a righteous life as exemplified in the life of Joseph.

Ready for Revival.

"O, I think this work has gone forward by leaps and bounds," said Dr. Chapman near the close of his sermon. "I felt the spirit of God here this afternoon. I never saw anything to equal it. I think Wilmington is on the eve if not the beginning of a marvelous work of grace now if with a... these forces welded together they will work with a passion for souls."

In response to the appeal of the evangelist, many came forward at the close of the service.

As a tribute to ther mothers, at the request of Dr. Chapman, a large proportion of the audience last night wore a white flower. On the platform were a large cluster of Easter lilies, sent by Miss Lucy B. Moore, as a tribute to "all mothers."

One of the most impressive features of the night service was the singing of "My Mother's Prayer," by Mr. Albert Brown. As his clear rich baritone voice pronounced the tender words of devotion above the quietness could be heard sobs from big brawny men while mothers wept. It brought home with great force the lesson that the day was designed to inculcate.

For sublime sweetness, probably no meeting of the campaign in Wil-

WOMAN WHO KILLED HER CHILDREN GOES FREE

Mrs. Ida Sniffen Rogers Gains Liberty on Insanity Plea.

District Attorney Says He Thinks Everybody Feels She Has Suffered Enough by Depriving Herself of Her Children.

New York, April 26. — Ida Sniffen Rogers, who poisoned her two children on December 29, 1914, was given her freedom in the Supreme Court here today after a jury had acquitted her of the murder of her two-year-old son, John. The verdict was "not guilty," on the ground of insanity. Upon motion of the district attorney's office the court dismissed another indictment, charging her with the murder of her daughter, Lorida, 3 months old.

Mrs. Rogers collapsed when the verdict was announced. She quickly recovered, however, and left the court room with Lorlys Elton Rogers, who is now her husband, and who was the father of her children.

"We are going away, somewhere where there are flowers," said Rogers.

"We expected this result," Assistant District Attorney Martin, the prosecuting attorney, declared, after Mrs. Rogers had been freed. "I think everybody feels that Mrs. Rogers has suffered enough by depriving herself of her children."

During the deliberations, the jury returned to the court room and asked to have read to it a question asked Dr. Menas S. Gregory, an alienist, for the prosecution, by counsel for Mrs. Rogers, and his answer. Dr. Gregory was asked: "Leaving all other questions aside, do you think that a woman who loved her children could murder them, unless she was insane?" to which Dr. Gregory replied: "I would regard it as a very suspicious circumstance."

On the first ballot the jury stood nine for acquittal, two for conviction and one undecided. Decision was reached on the third ballot.

UNUSUALLY GOOD PROGRAM

Arranged for Union Meeting of Wilmington Baptist Association at Centerville.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kelly, N. C., April 26.—The Union meeting of the Wilmington Baptist Association, which will be held with the Centreville Baptist church on Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, is expected to be one of the largest and best attended that has been held in the association for several years.

Preparations have been going on at Kelly, where the church is located, for some time. A very good programme has been arranged. Some strong speakers have been secured.

Mr. Odis B. Hinnant, the well known boys' worker of Wilmington, is down for an address on Saturday. This same speaker addressed the last Union meeting at Bear Branch and made such an excellent impression that calls have been going to him from all over this section for addresses.

Prof. L. B. Olive, principal of the big Baptist school at Delway and president of the State B. Y. P. U., will make an address on Sunday.

It is expected that Hon. John A. Oates, president of the Baptist State convention, will be present for an address.

In addition to this list of speakers, there will be several talks by pastors of the association. Included among the list will be Revs. Messrs. Rivenbark, Brooks and Green.

HELPLESSSNESS OF 2 YEARS HALTED BY TANLAC'S AID

Mrs. J. E. Place Affirms She Is Enjoying Greater Health Than Expected

Another prominent resident of Durham to commend Tanlac is Mrs. J. E. Place, of 215 Rigsby avenue.

Her benefits from Tanlac are little short of wonderful.

During the five years of her sufferings this woman was helpless for exactly 24 months. Medicines and hospital treatments failed to aid her. Now, after finishing three bottles of this reconstructive tonic, she is, as she expresses it: "Enjoying such great health that I never expected. I can eat meats and solids; gas bloating has almost left me; I sleep well; nervousness has been greatly reduced; I have gained two pounds in weight, and can do my housework again."

The real value of Mrs. Place's gains from Tanlac may better be realized when one considers that, as she told the Tanlac Man: "During the two years that I was helpless I did not taste solid foods. I was reduced in weight, was nervous, suffered severe pains in my back and shoulders, and could not sleep properly."

Few of the thousands of indorsements offered to Tanlac from men and women in all parts of the United States, and representing all walks of life, stand out more stronger than this one of Mrs. Place. It forcefully demonstrates the wonderful reconstructive powers of Tanlac.

IS HELD FOR U. S. COURT

Unusual Charge of Raising Money Orders on Wholesale Scale Preferred Against Isabel Smith.

Isabel Smith, colored, 16 years old, who was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy United States Marshal J. N. Fennell, waiving a preliminary hearing on the charge of raising five postal money orders during the past few months, was held under $200 bond for the criminal term of United States District Court in May by United States Commissioner George Harriss.

According to the charges preferred against the negress, she had a set plan which she followed in practically every case. Given a dollar to order whiskey from Jacksonville, she would , it is alleged, make application for a money order for 70 cents and put the other 30 cents in her pocket. And later raise the order to $1.

The defendant is alleged to have made the applications in the name of Carrie Dixie, 416 1-2 Queen street. When the postal orders were presented at the postoffice in Jacksonville by the companies to which they were sent, the authorities noticed at once that they had been tampered with and refused to cash them.

Postal Inspector H. P. Farrington took up the investigation of the case. He has worked up, what is said to be a strong case against the negress, during the past few days. Inspector Farrington made the affidavit upon which the arrest was made. The orders were sent away, as stated above for whiskey, to be shipped back by express. Although it is only charged that five orders were raised it is known that other orders have recently been sent in the same name from applications on file at the postoffice.

The defendant was represented by Emmett Bellamy, Esq., and W. M. Bellamy. She is a daughter of Elsie Smith, colored, now serving a term in jail for selling whiskey. When questioned by the officers and Commissioner Harriss, she denied having raised the money orders. In default of the bond the defendant was lodged in the county jail.

AN INSPIRING GATHERING

Men of the Chapman-Alexander Party Meet With the Business Men of Wilmington at Supper.

The number and spirit of the company of men who gathered at the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 last night may well remove any doubt as to the unlessened power of the religion of Jesus Christ to attract the thinking business man of today. The size of the gathering alone was sufficient testimony to the fact that the business men of Wilmington are not only interested in the Chapman-Alexander campaign, but are doing definite work with definite results in the meetings.

The gathering was the outcome of an invitation sent by Mr. J. B. Huntington to the members of the Committee of One Hundred and their friends, to meet for a conference with Dr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander, and what the influence of that meeting, with its ever-widening circles, will mean to the tabernacle services and to the community in general during the coming days, must exercise the imagination.

Through the generosity of one or two business men an excellent supper was provided, and this was artistically set in the gymnasium and presided over by the following ladies: Mesdames J. B. Huntington, W. P. Sprunt, Ashley Curtis, Bidgood, Schulken, Horton, and Misses Hicks, Mary Worth, Schulken, Otten and Kirkham. Among the invited guests were Mr. Roger Moore, president of the Rotary Club, Rev. Andrew J. Howell and Mr. Ashley Curtis, while at a table at one end of the room sat Mr. J. B. Huntington, leader of the Committee of One Hundred, with Dr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander, and the following members of their party, Messrs. Schaeffer, Brown, Barraclough and Rock.

It was an inspiring gathering that faced the evangelists at the close of the supper, and Mr. Alexander seemed to have caught something of the inspiration of it, as he rose and began a brief song service, with the well known Gospel hymn, "The Old Time Religion." The business men sang it with a heartiness that brought a smile to the face of the song leader. Rev. C. T. Schaeffer offered a brief prayer, and Mr. Brown made his contribution to the conference in the solo, "Shadows," which he sang in a manner that sent a thrill through the audience.

Mr. Huntington emphasized the fact that the Committee of One Hundred was pledged to the work of seeking to win for Christ the men of Wilmington, and he urged upon the members of the committee the necessity for greater efforts in the days that lay ahead, as there were still scores of men in the city who had not been approached with an invitation to the meetings.

Dr. Chapman, prior to his address, complimented the members of the committee on the splendid work they had already accomplished, and stated that the opportunity that lay before them for winning men to Christ was one of the greatest he had ever seen. He had three reasons for this: First, they were united. Second, they had a good leader in Mr. Huntington. Third, men seemed to be willing to be approached.

Dr. Chapman is essentially a preacher to men. His address on the value of personal work left not only an impression but an inspiration with his audience. With his mind ever planning for the man away from God, and his sympathy always outreaching to him, Dr. Chapman devoted the latter part of his remarks to a presentation of the way of salvation which could not fail to appeal to every business man present, so practical and logical was his statement. He appealed to the men's reason. He claimed for his invitation a fair consideration. He urged on every man who had not yet made the great decision to take the first opportunity of doing so, and that opportunity would be at the Tabernacle that evening.

Dr. Chapman closed the conference with a short prayer, and the whole company then marched as a delegation to the Tabernacle.

RICHARDSON TO RETURN

Well Known New York Musician Will Again Direct Orchestra at Lumina.

His hundreds of admiring friends in Wilmington and throughout the State will be delighted to learn that Don Richardson, a native Tar Heel, who has made good in the musical field in New York to a remarkable degree, will return this summer to direct the orchestra at Lumina. Richardson has been the director at the well known summer resort pavilion at Wrightsville Beach and has won for himself new honors in his chosen work by the splendid manner in which he entertains the thousands who seek the ocean breezes there.

Richardson as usual is having splendid success in New York and in addition to directing an orchestra with much skill has also entered the field of musical composition and has written several popular airs this winter.

Atlanta, Ga., April 26.—Bradd Timms, of Atlanta, breaking 98 out of a possible 100 targets, won the Georgia trap shooters championship match here today in the closing events of the state shoot which has been in progress for two days.

Women Sufferers Need Swamp-Root

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness and may be despondent and irritable.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, restores health to the kidneys and is just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a fifty cent or one dollar bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing, be sure and mention the Wilmington Daily Star.

New York, April 26,—New York took the second game of its series with Boston by a score of 9 to 0 today. The Yankees hit McHale last year with the New York team, for four singles and a triple in the first inning and scored five earned runs. Markle, formerly of the Virginia League, pitched his second victory of the season for New York, holding the world's champions to four scattered hits. Nunemaker made a single, double and triple, giving him seven hits for 13 bases in the last eight times at bat.

WHITEVILLE DEFEATS FAIR BLUFF SECOND TIME 8 TO 5.

Whiteville, N. C., April 26.—In the first game of the season on the local diamond, Whiteville yesterday defeated Fair Bluff for the second time this year to the tune of 8 to 5. The game was hard fought and exciting throughout the nine innings of play and was featured by the hard hitting of Lumsden and Smith for the local team. Schulken, a young high school recruit, pitched the game and his work gave promise of a great twirler. Clarkton plays Whiteville here tomorrow.

Batteries: Whiteville, Schulken and Cashwell; Fair Bluff, Ward and Rogers and Rogers.

CAROLINA LEAGUE OPENING GREETED BY BAD WEATHER

Raleigh, N. C., April 26.—The North Carolina League began its 1916 season today with Raleigh defeating Durham, Ashevill ewinning over Greensboro and Charlotte defeating Winston-Salem.

Unfavorable weather conditions prevented anticipated large attendance, but the opening games give encouraging prospects for one of the best seasons in the history of the league. W. G. Bramham, of Durham, who succeeded Arthur Lyon, is president of the league.

FIVE THOUSAND FANS SEE RICHMOND DEFEAT BUFFALO

Richmond, Va., April 26.—The wildness of Bader and the free hitting of Tyson's delivery in the sixth inning neted Richmond seven runs and caused the defeat of Buffalo at the opening of the International League season here today. The score was 9 to 5, the game being called in the seventh inning on account of darkness. The last three innings were played in a driving rain. Five thousand fans saw Governor Henry C. Stuart toss the first ball from his box in the grandstand to Mayor George Ainslie who pitched it over the plate.

Toledo, Ohio, April 26.—Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Toledo baseball club in the American Association, today purchased from the Philadelphia National League Carl Adams, pitcher, who was with Bresnahan at Chicago in 1915.

MIXED FOURSOME TOURNAMENT AT CAPE FEAR COUNTRY CLUB.

Rules for Qualifying Rounds for the Annual Spring Tournament.

There will be a mixed foursome golf tournament at the Cape Fear Country Club this afternoon beginning upon the arrival of the 3:30 car. Handsome prizes have been donated by a member of the club for the winners. It is hoped by the greens committee that there will be a large number of entries.

Mr. J. Wallace Carmichael, chairman of the greens committee, has announced the rules for the qualifying rounds of the annual spring tournament which will begin Saturday and will continue through the following week for the men and for the ladies from next Monday through Friday of next week. These rounds may be played at any hour of the day but they must be played and the scores deposited in the proper box by 7 o'clock of the last day of the qualifying period. Owing to the congested condition of the course on Saturdays, all players who can do so are requested to qualify on week days. Following are the rules:

"1. Ladies qualifying at nine holes, Gentlemen at 18.

"2. All of the qualifying holes must be played on the same day, unless weather conditions interfere, in which latter case the circumstances must be reported to the captain of the greens and permission obtained to play the concluding holes on some other day. Players who have delayed playing their qualifying rounds until the last day will not be granted permission to wait over until the next day, but must complete their play regardless of weather conditions or any other circumstances.

"3. Players before starting their qualifying rounds must enter their names on the score board in the locker room and inform their partners of their intention to qualify. Players will not be allowed to practice or to take trial shots on the day of their qualifying rounds, until they have completed them and filed their scores. Players may practice as much as desired during the qualifying period, as such practice is not done on the day on which they qualify and preceding the qualifying rounds.

"4. A player starting his qualifying rounds must play through to a finish and report the score made, regardless of injury, sickness or other circumstances, except as provided.

"5. Players playing their qualifying rounds will have right of way over players not doing so, except that Two all Matches shall always have right of way over any match playing a larger number of balls. On Friday, May 5th, ladies playing their qualifying rounds cannot be passed by any one.

"6. Upon conclusion of qualifying round, score should be signed, dated, witnessed by your partner, the words 'qualifying score' written across its face, and deposited in the box in the locker room. Do not enter your score on the score board. This will be done by the committe, but don't fail to enter your name before starting. Only place your individual score on the score card, two scores on one card will confuse the committee.

"7. There will be a prize of two balls for the best gentlemen's score, and a prize of one ball for the ladies.

"8. As soon as all qualifying scores are in, the arrangement of flights and the pairings for match play will be made and posted at the club house. There will be five flights for gentlemen, and three flights for ladies. The first flight for gentlemen will consist of 16 players, all other flights will contain eight players. Rules governing the match play will be announced at the close of the qualifying period.

"9. Owing to the crowded condition of the course, matches composed of lady and gentlemen players will not be permitted on Saturday, April 29, or Saturday, May 6. The playing of mixed foursome is to be discouraged during the entire qualifying period (April 29, to May 6). In conjunction with the men's qualifying rounds, there will be the usual spring sweepstakes, admission fee 50 cents. See posted notices in regard to sweepstakes event.

"By order of the Greens Committee,
"J. W. CARMICHAEL,
"Chairman."

Trinity Loses To Davidson College

ALTHOUGH BY FAR OUTHITTING THE PRESBYTERIANS—GAME SEVEN INNINGS BY AGREEMENT—SCORE 7 TO 0.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham N. C., April 26.—Alth ugh by far outhitting their opponents, Trinity was defeated here today by Davidson in a seven-inning game, 7 to 0. Mason held Davidson to three hits, but six errors behind him gave the game to the visitors.

Langley and Love, of Trinity, each got three hits, and Alford, of Davidson, got a single and a double out of four times up.

The Presbyterians scored six runs in the second frame as a result of an infield hit, four errors and a wild pitch. In the third inning Brown, of Davidson, reached second on Graham's error, advanced to third on a fielder's choice, and scored on Langley's error.

MRS. ANNA CHESTNUTT DEAD.

Former Duplin Woman Dies at Hamlet; Buried at Clinton.

Hamlet, N. C., April 26.—Mrs. Anna Chestnutt, of this place, died Sunday. Mrs. Chestnutt had been ill since the latter part of February, but was not thought to be in a serious condition until a few days ago when she was taken to the hospital for an operation. She was in her 56th year, and was the widow of H. B. Chestnutt, who was for quite a while the agent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway at Hamlet.

Mrs. Chestnutt was born in Kenansville and lived a number of years in Clinton and moved to Hamlet about 12 years ago. She leaves two children, Clara and Francis, their ages being 13 and 17, respectively. She also leaves four sisters, all of whom reside at this place, their names being Mrs. O. T. Goodwin, Mrs. E. M. Love, Mrs. J. R. Boykin and Mrs. J. L. Mears.

The remains were taken to Clinton for burial.

M'NEILL TAXED WITH COSTS

In Case of Affray With Editor Moore, of Fayetteville.

Fayetteville, N. C., April 26.—Messrs. George McNeill and A. M. Moore were before Recorder H. L. Cook yesterday on charge of engaging in an affray Monday afternoon. Mr. Moore is publisher of the Cape Fear News and Mr. McNeill is a son of the newly chosen mayor, Capt. J. D. McNeill. Of the disposal of the cases in court The News today says:

"McNeill plead guilty to the charge, Moore not guilty. The evidence developed the fact that McNeill attacked Moore unexpectedly and that Moore only fought in self-defense.

"The recorder discharged Moore and taxed McNeill with the cost, saying that it was better for McNeill that little be done or said about the matter."

CAPT. S. P. WEBBER DEAD.

Had an Eventful Career in the Coast Guard Service.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., April 26.—News has been received here of the death at Portland, Me., of Capt. Eugene P. Webber, retired, of the Coast Guard, after an eventful career. He was born in the early '50s. This city was his winter home, and he married Miss Margaret Brown here. While on active service he did duty at every cutter station from Maine to the Gulf and at some ports on the Pacific. He was at one time a member of the Coast Survey, did service in Cuban waters in 1898 as commander of a patrol ship, and for some time was with the Behring sea patrol fleet.

FOREST FIRES DESTRUCTIVE.

Citizens of Duplin Said to Have Suffered Loss of $90,000.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., April 26.—A forest fire of some magnitude was raging on the Clinton road between Faison and Giddensville, Tuesday. Probably 1,500 acres were swept by the flames before they were subdued. In the fire around Rose Hill last week, one man, Mr. George Parker, of Chinquapin, is said to have lost $1,000 an hour, the total being $90,000, while the fire was at its height, from the loss of valuable timber lands. So far, there has been no loss of life from the fire.

HOPE MILLS WILL REBUILD

Handsome School Building to Take Place of One Burned.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., April 26.—The board of trustees of the Hope Mills graded school, which was totally destroyed by fire Sunday morning, have decided to rebuild the school at once. No plans have been adopted. There was $7,500 insurance on the $10,000 building, so that only a comparatively small amount will have to be raised to erect a building as good as or better than the one burned.

MR. J. D. TAYLOR DEAD

Successful Merchant and Progressive Citizen of Wilson.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., April 26.—J. D. Taylor, a successful merchant and progressive citizen, died this afternoon after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Taylor was one of the leaders in civic affairs and a member of the First Baptist church. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon.

Common Stock of the Railroad is Placed on Seven Per Cent. Basis.

Philadelphia, April 26.—The directors of the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company today declared a dividend of 1 3-4 per cent. on the common stock, placing the stock on a 7 per cent. basis. The previous dividends were at the rate of 6 per cent. An extra dividend of 1 per cent. was also declared.

YALE'S PITCHER THROWS WILD AND GEORGETOWN WINS

Washington, Apr 26—Georgetown defeated Yale 3 to 1 this afternoon when Pitcher Garfield of the Blue nine went wild in the seventh inning. By hitting a batsman, throwing wild and making an error with two men on base, Garfield allowed Georgetown to score two runs.

In looking over the list of candidates registered in this State for Congress we fail to find the name of Editor Tom Owen, of Clinton, as a candidate in the Third district. Instead we find the name of Major George E. Butler, brother of Marion, who is to represent the district in the Chicago convention. How come? We were told some few weeks ago that our friend Owen was going to be nominated for Congress in the June primary and that he was practically sure of election. Explanation? Why, Marion Butler's steam roller, of course. However Marion Butler is not dominant. Oh, No! Not a bit of it!

A PARDON COMMISSION

Years ago The Star urged the establishment of a board of pardons for North Carolina, not by way of criticism of the governors, who constitute the pardoning power, but by way of lifting a great responsibility and burden from our State's chief executives. The reasons calling for it have been strong and numerous under many State administrations, but somehow or other public sentiment has never been worked up to the point of demanding a pardon commission for the State. Recently the Winston-Salem Sentinel strongly urged the wisdom of establishing a board of pardons to consist of five members, and Col. Al Fairbrother, of the Greensboro Record, joins in as follows:

"The Winston Sentinel finds that there is growing sentiment in this State for a Board of Pardons. The Sentinel suggests a board composed of five men. Perhaps four men would be better and on tie let the governor decide. That would be worth while. The idea of giving one man the power to set aside the decrees of courts is bad business. A board of pardons would assist in stopping crime."

The Sentinel accepts Colonel Fairbrother's suggestion as a good one. Under the Colonel's plan the Governor would still have his say, but we doubt whether many governors would care to cast the deciding vote to break a tie. Anyhow, the Sentinel urges the next Legislature to create a board of pardons, whatever may be the details of such an orgahization. That is precisely what the Legislature ought to do, but nothing will be done unless the press creates the sentiment that will call for it. The Governor, if it is his jugdment, might recommend it to the General Assembly.

No one incident in any special State administration moves us to favor a pardon board, but we do so for two reasons. One reason is that the sole pardoning power in the hands of the Governor is too great a responsibility for any one man, and the other, possibly more potent, is that of our respect and sympathy for the gubernatorial authority of the State. The present system subjects our governors to the fiercest criticisms of even their friends, whereas all the people of the State, regardless of politics, ought at all times to honor their Governor. Condemnation and antagonism aroused, even when a governor does his conscientious duty, must be distressingly embarassing and harrassing to a governor, and we confess to an overwhelming sense of sympathy for some our governors because of the position they have been compelled to take in the performance of their high and sacred duties.

Under rare circumstances should the press criticise and abuse the governor or the President of the United States or others in authority, for it detracts from their dignity, creates public distrust and disrespect and lessens the support and loyalty due them from the people, to say nothing of the effect it has to weaken and handicap them in the discharge of their numerous and complex duties. All hail the chief!" should be the popular sentiment, but when citizens and newspapers call their presidents and governors cowards and other disrespectful things because of some of the duties they perform in a conscientious way, it is not conducive to a respectful, loyal and lofty citizenship.

Morever, the trouble is, with respect to pardons many a time, the Governor is placed in a position from which it is impossible to escape an avalanche of criticism, no matter which way he decides, even if he were so to make public sentiment the sole basis of his action.

THE NORTH CAROLINA OF TOMORROW.

Dr. Clarence Poe, the progressive editor of the Progressive Farmer, sends The Star a pamphlet copy of "The North Carolina of Tomorrow," the subject of his address as president of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Society at its sixteenth annual session held at Raleigh on the 7th of last December. We have heretofore made reference to Dr. Poe's timely address, and such it is, timely, for it comes at a time when the people of the State are turning their thoughts and arousing their energies towards making "the greater North Carolina that is to be." Dr. Poe uttered words that will inspire and encourage those who are bending their energies and exercising their genius to promote the upbuilding of North Carolina along all the potential lines for her greater development.

While progress is making headway in North Carolina and powerful forces are at work to make her the greater State that she ought to be and is going to be, one of the needful things is for all of us to join in those bending of energies that are bound to affect the destinies of North Carolina. Getting all the people in line is promoting that end, just as much as the development of the State's resources and industries and agriculture are effective in promoting the material progress of the State.

It is essential that we get the true state of mind—the state of one mind as a people—so that our efforts for North Carolina may be along broader lines and grow in comprehensiveness as we develop ourselves as well as the State. Dr. Poe emphaszies the main point in adapting and elaborating one of the inspirational purposes of the Literary and Historical Society when it was founded sixteen years ago, viz: "The engendering of an intelligent and healthy State pride." The progressive development of State pride among North Carolina's people, for some reason or other, is noticeable and it is the one potentiality in the State's forward movement. A state can be no better or greater than its people, and no people can make a state greater than they are themselves, for they are the state. Just as a great people make a state greater in proportion to their own greatness, so we must have a greater people to make a greater North Carolina.

Building up our State pride means the making of a greater people, hence a greater State as the logical sequence, more scope, more genius, more enterprise, more energy, more State planning along every line of effort and undertaking, and more of everything else to the full limit of the scope we get for ourselves. Dr. Poe really makes it all plain enough in this pointed remark: "My first appeal tonight, my friends, my first plea to you who really love North Carolina, and who love her, I trust, with a passionate and eager love, my first concern is that we shall set up a worthy ideal for our people and give them a vision of how great a State, how mighty a commonwealth, it is possible for us to build here."

The higher the ideal all the better. When we set an ideal and reach it, all other things will be added unto us. The nearer we approach an ideal, the less prejudiced, the less bumptious and the less arrogant we become, for we broaden as we grow upward in our ideals and become the more capable of making a greater North Carolina. In a sense, we shed the moss off our backs and go onward and upward free from the handicaps that confine us to a pent-up Utica.

Dr. Poe wants to carry all the people, not a few of the people, into the higher ideal zone, and that is where he is everlastingly right. Just the day that the lamented Robert C. Hood, of Greensboro, formerly of Southport, met his tragic death, he contributed to the Greensboro Daily News an inspiring communication which strangely enough was his dying message, as it were, to the people of North Carolina. Dr. Poe quotes from that article these words of Mr. Hood, who urged that our next governor should give his entire term of office to a Currituck-Cherokee crusade in behalf of rural improvement, better roads, public health and the development of new ideals of beauty and civic pride in our cities and hamlets: "Many of our people are lacking in knowledge of the better way of doing things; many of them lack experience; but just about all of them are capable of doing anything they set their minds to, and it is largely a matter of getting their minds properly set."

How true that is! The state of mind is everything, and if it comes up to a higher ideal the achievements of our people will be in like proportion. Working all the people up to that ideal is one of the greatest tasks before those who are capable of carrying the banner forward and upward.

NOT THE RIGHT WAY TO DO IT

Florida seems to be making progress in cattle raising, and we know the adaptabilities for the industry are there, just as they exist in North Carolina, barring the cattle tick which can be easily eradicated there and here with the assistance of the Federal government. However, Florida is not observing the economies of stock raising, when she permits exportation of her cattle products, as per the following as we get it from the Jacksonville Times-Union:

"'Range cattle bring good money in Hamilton county,' says the Hamilton Banner, published at Jasper. 'Two cattle deals were made this week in Jasper that give some idea of the rapid increase in the value of cattle,' continues The Banner. 'Kimball and Bush, of Georgia, who are buying cattle to restock the ranges of Taxas, paid nearly $5,000 for 350 head of range cattle in Jasper Monday. The number included steers, bulls, cows and calves, taking them as they came.' The demand for cattle is strong and the industry is receiving encouragement every day. The cattle mentioned had not been fed up or even dipped but were needed and will be dippd on their way out to Texas. That the cattle raising industry in Florida will soon reach great proportions seems certain."

If Florida expects her cattle industry to grow, she needs all her own cattle till the state can have a surplus to spare. The probability is that sections of Florida need those 350 cattle a great deal worse than Texas. We don't know what kind of goods they were, but Texas seems willing to take all of them that she can get.

Really Florida's best policy would be to build up her own cattle industry and observe the strict economies of the industry by establishing one or more packing houses to convert the raw material into the finished commercial products. She should not export her livestock but export her packing house products. Thus she would establish two profitable industries—the livestock industry and the packing house industry. Besides that, the slaughter house by-products in the shape of ammoniated residue and other fertilizer constituents would be retained in Florida or converted into another merchantable product. Necessarily, fertilizer manufacturing grows up along with packing houses.

We want to see Florida turn the trick like we are going to do in this portion of North Carolina—some of these days. We are doing our best to beat Florida to it, but if she will take the cue and set us a rousing good example, let her go ahead. However, Florida must not forget all the economies of the collateral industries—cattle raising, packing houses and fertilizer factories.

An important thing the Democratic State convention will do in Raleigh today will be to adopt strong resolutions voicing the sentiments of a united Democracy in endorsement of President Wilson, his record, his policies in dealing with the grave problems of the day, calling for his renomination and piedging support for his re-election.

GOVERNMENT VIOLATION OF PROHIBITION.

Judging from what our esteemed contemporary, the Raleigh Times, has to say about "Gubment Booze Sellin'," Uncle Sam takes it on himself to violate North Carolina's prohibition law. In other words, the government, through its revenue officials, in some portions of the State where moonshining is prevalent, seizes and sells liquor contrary to the provisions and even the dignity of the laws of prohibition Carolina. Leastwise, The Times remarks:

"If there is no such law on the Federal statute books to that effect there ought to be one against auctioning off liquor in a dry territory. A State that has voted prohibition has exercised its right under the constitution and when the government sells liquor in such a state it is violating a principle of state's rights and overriding the will of the people. There is just as much reason why the chief of police of a city should auction off the booze he captures as there is for the government's doing it. The collector of internal revenue should, if he can, prevent the auctioning off of liquor in a dry territory. If he can do it and doesn't, he deserves the censure of the community. If he can't, then his hands are tied and he isn't to blame."

The Times makes it pretty plain that such sales under government auspices obviously sets at naught the prohibition laws of the State, but the probability is that the Federal laws will have to be amended so they will not conflict with prohibition laws. The government should destroy all the firewater it seizes in dry territory, else ship it away where its auction sales will not be a flagrant violation of state laws. At the same time, our prohibition law does not inhibit or prohibit the government from carrying on auction sales of condemned booze seized in prohibition preserves. Nevertheless, it is morally contrary to and subversive of the liquor laws of a sovereign state.

CHILDRENS' DAY PROPOSED.

To the Editor of The Star:

This morning when I told my child that today was "Mothers' Day', she asked: "And when is children's day?"

Unfortunately I could give her no definite answer since the people of this glorious republic are behind the Japanese in not setting aside at least one day in the year for "the Kiddies."

In Japan, as we all know, there is a glorious holiday and feast once a year for little girls and the same for little boys. On that day all parents must forget business and play with the kiddies.

May I suggest that Wilmington start this good fashion and in this, the so-called "child age", be the first city in the United States to honor the coming citizens of this great republic by setting aside one day in the year for Children's Day.

As no month is more beloved by the little ones than May, I would suggest this month as Kiddies' Month and as time is short to select a day, may I propose the 10th as Children's Day in Wilmington?

A LOVER OF THE KIDDIES.

CURRENT COMMENT

The Wilmington Star says: "Probably the Progressives and Republicans may get together at Chicago, but not till after they have called each other logothetes, sapheads, reactionaries, mossbacks, porch climbers, traitors and bashi-ba-zooks." When the Republicans and Progressives meet simultaneously in Chicago that city will become the place for telling many important truths.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

It seems that Hon. Claude Kitchin is going to have formidable opposition in his race for re-nomination as a member of Congress. However, we venture to say the Democratic leader of the House will win out. He is a man of great ability who has risen to a high place in the House and, while we think that, as leader of the majority, he should have supported the President more than he has, he is too good a man to be turned out and supplanted by a new representative at this time, in our opinion.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

The voters of the Second district would make a mistake should they defeat Claude Kitchin for Congress. He should not have a single vote recorded against him out of pique. Voters should remember that the very thing which leads Kitchin to stand independently is the very characteristic of the man that goes to make him a big, strong and useful representative. There have been times that we felt like he ought to be recalled, but in a Democracy where every man is allowed to think and act for himself we must not be guided by small things that appeal to our prejudices and temporary feelings. Claude Kitchin is a big man, a forceful leader and in the main is a support to the Wilson administration. Undoubtedly he ought to be re-elected. —Salisbury Post.

About two months ago Judge W. P. Bynum, of Greensboro, offered to be one of a number of patriotic University men who would give $100 each toward the support of The News Letter—a hundred dollars a year, if our memory is correct. The Observer has been on the lookout for responses and so far as it has been able to see, the only one to date is Col. Jule Carr, who writes from California to put him down in Bynum's list. The News Letter has been doing a fine work for the University and for the State, and the surprise has been that it has come into such a small degree of appreciation on part of University men scattered over the State, many of whom have more money than they know what to do with and who are able to give five dollars where men "like Bynum and us" could give but one. Check-aiding The News Letter opens a desirable avenue for manufacturing pride in the University.—Charlotte Observer.

ETERNITY

By Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D.

Eternity begins where computation ends, i. e., when the mind has reached its limit in thinking out into the future just at the point where the mind might fall. Eternity would begin and there is no end.

Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman.

WHERE WILL YOU SPEND IT?

Eternity holds for us either a thought of joy or of terror. The latter if we are drifting away from God, and are facing an eternal existence without Him, for whom we were created. The former if, because of faith in Christ, we look toward a happy reunion with those who have gone before.

What does Eternity mean to you?

Where will you spend it?

No one can answer this question for you, not even God Himself. You had better settle it now.

ETERNITY.

How long, sometimes, a day appears!
And weeks, how long they are!
Months move as slow as if the years
Would never pass away.

But months and years are passing by,
And soon must all be gone;
For, day by day, as minutes fly,
Eternity comes on.

Days, months and years must have an end,
Eternity has none;
'Twill always have as long to spend
As when it first begun.

HERPES, FEVER BLISTER, OR COLD SORE

Herpes, or cold sore, occurs upon the lower part of the face, about the mouth, cheek or chin. The patient first feels a stinging, burning sensation, or itching. At the same time a group of little pin-head sized blisters form. These are filled with clear yellowish fluid, and they are surrounded by a reddened area of skin or mucous membrane.

Herpes may come upon the lips, upon the eyelids. There may be one patch or several, and sometimes a large area of skin is covered with herpetic eruption. After a few days the little blisters dry up into a crust which soon falls off and leaves a red spot that disappears after several more days.

Upon the lips or eyelids, when mucous membrane is involved, the crust is apt to leave a superficial ulcer which is very painful and irritable.

Something like a thousand readers have asked us to tell what is the cause of herpes, and in our skilful way we have evaded the issue by springing Latin or medical terms to cover our stupendous ignorance. Unfortunately the authorities, who, generally serve us in good stead when we are thus pinned down, have nothing to offer in the way of causes of herpes, so we shall have to give our own little theoretical conception and let it go at that.

Herpes or "cold sore" or "fever blister," then—the oracle now speaks—is a reflex signal thrown up by the system to indicate, dumbly, that something has gone wrong inside. Herpes on the face is almost a classical symptom of pneumonia. Herpes on the cheek recurs again and again in certain children whenever a tooth becomes carious, and only careful attention by the dentist will clear up the frequent and annoying attacks of herpes.

Herpes on the lip is a common incident of an acute coryza or tracheitis.

Some people have an attack of herpes whenever they indulge in overeating.

A good many women have about thirteen attacks of herpes annually.

The treatment is simple. The lesion will clear up rapidly if left to itself. A small spot on the skin may be protected with collodion, or painted with compound tincture of benzoin, or gently smeared with zinc oxide ointment. Touching herpes on the lip frequently with spirits of camphor dries it up.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Canker Sores in Mouth

Please give some suggestions regarding the cause and relief of canker sores in the mouth. I suffer agonies from this trouble, and I meet many others similarly afflicted, but no one appears to have anything to offer.

Answer—Faulty oral hygiene is the first factor—decayed teeth, chronic inflammation or infection of gums, diseased tonsils, perhaps in some cases too prolonged use of antiseptic dentrifrices, too vigorous brushing, tobacco Toxemia from intestinal stasis is another factor, whether you think you are constipated or not. Touch the canker sore once each day with tincture of iodine diluted with an equal volume of alcohol.

Second Operation for Goitre.

I have had exophthalmic goitre seven years. Two years ago half the gland was removed, but it only made me more nervous. I am also badly constipated. Doctor now advises another operation. Should I have it? Is it a sure cure?

Answer—It is not a sure cure, but have the constipation properly remedied first.

The Antitoxin Bugaboo Again

What effect would an injection of anti-toxin have upon a person who had tonsilitis, and not diphtheria?

Answer—Unless a trifling attack of hives, the antitoxin would have no apparent effect. We know, because we have taken it as a prophylactic, when we had no illness at all, but wished to be prepared against possible infection. If anti-toxin were dangerous we would not voluntarily take any.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents. [1-65]

BELIEVES CHARGES OF CITY ARE EXCESSIVE

For Making Water and Sewerage Connections For Houses

Wilmington Attorney Makes Protest Before Council—Mr. Sol Sternberger Complains of Police Call System.

That the charge made by the city of $10 for making water connections to houses and $5 for sewerage connections is excessive was the contention of Marsden Bellamy, Esq., who appeared before City Council yesterday in his own behalf. Mr. Bellamy thought that under the statute a property owner has a right to make his own connections, if he desires, but contended that in any event the charge made by the city is greater than the cost of the work. Councilman Merritt thought that there was merit in the contention and upon his motion the matter was referred to the water and sewerage committee.

Mr. Sol Sternberger complained of the constant ringing of the police call alarm at Seventh and Orange streets which he said was becoming very annoying to the people of that section. He thought that something ought to be done or else some of the citizens in that vicinity would have to move out. Mr. Sternberger declared that he had only recently spent considerable money for treatment for nervousness and that unless something was done it would go for naught. His complaint was referred to Councilman Hall.

Mr. Cohen, representing the Wilmington Trades Council, sought the cooperation of Council in getting out a "Get-Together" edition of the Saturday Record, a weekly paper, published in the interests of the labor organizations of the city. He stated that the object of the edition was to encourage closer co-operation between the laboring man and the other interests in the city. He asked that Council give $50 as payment for a page in the paper in which the merits of the propositions to be submitted to the people for improvements could be set forth.

He called attention to the greater interest being taken by the laboring men in public affairs and stated that the second annual meeting of the State Federation of Labor would be held in this city in August. His request was referred to the finance committee with the recommendation that it be accepted.

In the absence of Councilman Jones, who could not attend the meeting, City Attorney Ruark explained the need of having done with reference to the recent proposal of the Simmons Forced Grate Company for testing out this apparatus at the city waterworks plant. The grates were installed for the purpose of making a test to see if a saving could not be effected. Mr. L. H. Simmons, president of the company, guaranteed to effect a saving but Mr. John H. Sweeney, engineer at the plant, at a recent meeting of Council, stated that the test was not practicable because it could not be made except by using one boiler and that it is necessary to have two going all the time in order that one may be kept in reserve for use in the event that the other breaks down.

Mr. Ruark thought there was some justice in Mr. Simmons' contention that he had not yet been given an opportunity to test out the apparatus in a way to show that he could do what he guaranteed. The matter was deferred for action until the next meeting.

Councilman McCaig stated that there has been some complaints with reference to the new license tax ordinance and suggested that these be taken up at the second meeting of Council in May. On motion of Mr. McCaig, Council voted to make the license tax $1 a year for all dogs.

Resolutions of appreciation for the efficient work done by the coast guard cutter Seminole at the fire Sunday afternoon at the Chadbourn lumber plant were adopted and copies ordered sent to Capt. P. H. Uberroth, of the Seminole, and officers of the Treasury Department.

Mr. B. Sheppard, an employe of the street department who was kicked and seriously injured by a horse five weeks ago, asked that he be given some remuneration by the city. He was sent to the hospital for treatment at the city's expense and expressed appreciation for what had been done for him. His request was referred to Councilman Bradshaw and City Attorney Ruark.

Bids for furnishing uniforms for the fire and police departments were opened. Southerland and Weaver were given the contract for furnishing the uniforms for the fire department at a cost of $16.33 each. J. M. Solky & Co. were given the contract for furnishing the uniforms for the police department, their bid being $17.50. It was explained that the uniforms for the policeman are slightly heavier than for the firemen. The total number of uniforms needed will be about 75.

A representative of the Acme Tea Chest Company requested that a light be furnished by the city for the wharf immediately in front of the plant of this concern across the river.

City Atorney Ruark reported that the Tidewater Power Company had tendered the amount claimed by it to be due for paving, which is about $300 less than the bill rendered by the city, but as part payment had submitted a draft on the Atlantic Coast Line. Inasmuch as the city gave the franchise to the Tidewater Power Company, Mr. Ruark thought that it would not be a good policy to deal with anyone else in settling claims. He thought that the proper receipt from the city so that the amount in dispute can be taken to the courts for adjustment could be agreed upon without difficulty.

COMMENTS ON LECTURES

Interesting Article in This Week's Issue of New York Independent.

An interesting article concerning the training of Winifred Sackville Stoner, Jr., according to the laws of nature and not the prescribed rules generally set down in pedagogy, appears in this week's issue of The Independent.

The publishers, Bobbs Merrill Co., have recently issued a booklet with "Comments on the Lectures of Winifred Sackville Stoner" in which every newspaper of any consequence in the United States is quoted as giving praise to Wilmington's noted educator.

FIVE CHARGES OF BURGLARY

Have Been Preferred Against Laurence Swinson, Colored, As a Result of Identification of Loot.

As a result of the identification of stolen property found at the negro's house by County Officer H. Mack Godwin, five separate charges and perhaps more have been preferred against Laurence Swinson, colored, who was arrested by Officer Godwin, following the statement of another negro that a stolen watch belonging to Capt. W. A. Sanders, had been sold to him by Swinson.

Warrants charging Swinson with burglary in connection with the theft of articles from the residences of citizens have been sworn out before Justice George Harriss as follows: Mr. Robert R. Bellamy, one diamond ring, one plain ring and safety razor; Capt. W. A. Sanders, one pair of trousers, and one double-case gold watch; Dr. John LeGwin, one sterling silver cigarette case and $1.95; Mr. N. B. Futrelle one double-case gold watch, which was recovered from a pawn shop; Dr. Adrian Rhodes, one diamond scarf pin and $7.50.

All of the above residences have been entered within the past two months or so. All of the above property was recovered from the negro's home with the exception of the money, and of the watch which was found at a pown shop. Officer Godwin still has a considerable amount of loot found at the negro's house, which has not yet been identified, and it is believed it will be possible to connect Swinson up with other burglaries, and particularly with that of Mr. Mason's residence on Queen street.

The negro will probably be given a preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss tomorrow or Saturday. Robert McGowan, colored, who tried to sell Captain Sanders' watch to a local jeweler, is being held as a material witness.

MEET WITH GRATIFYING RESPONSE FOR HOSPITAL.

More Than $600 Already Secured for Carrying on Work for Sick Babies.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the Baby Hospital which will be conducted in the building at No. 422 South Front street have met with gratifying success in securing contributions for its support and have already secured $600 which with the amount brought over from last year makes available about $775. While it is estimated that it will take not less than $2,000 to keep the hospital going for the entire five months of summer, the committee now has enough funds in hand to begin and will open the hospital next Monday.

The committee will continue its canvass and will see as many of the citizens as possible. They have been very much pleased with the liberal response that they have received so far.

Contributions for the cause will be gladly received by any member of the committee, which is composed of the following: Dr. C. L. Pridgen, chairman; Mrs. G. H. Croom, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Solky, Miss Marie Grainger, Mrs. C. L. Pridgen, Senator W. B. Cooper and Dr. J. B. Sidbury.

THIEF GOT "COLD FEET."

Didn't Like Trail of City Bloodhounds Evidently—Chicks Returned.

The thief who Tuesday night raided a hennery at No. 18 Castle street and who was trailed for two blocks by the city bloodhounds under the leash of Officer W. H. Kermon, evidently got "cold feet" after carrying away the chicks and hearing that the hounds were after him. The chickens were found yesterday by the owner near the house, as they were presumably turned loose by the thief after he had escaped some distance with them.

Report of the incident was made yesterday evening to the police station.

ALL N. C. POSTMASTERS ARE URGED TO ATTEND

National Convention by President H. McL. Green, of Wilmington.

Wilmington Postmaster Says Elaborate Programme Has Been Arranged, Which Will Include Many Social Features and Diversions.

Postmaster H. McL. Green, president of the North Carolina Postmasters' Association and State Executive Committeeman for the National Association, who has just received a tentative list of some of the chief features of the programme to be carried out at the convention of the National Association of Postmasters to be held in Washington, D. C., July 18 to 21, calls the attention of postmasters throughout the State to the advantages both in the way of pleasure and increased efficiency in the discharge of duties which will accrue to them from attendance at the convention.

In discussing the approaching convention yesterday with a representative of The Star, Postmaster Green declared he sincerely hoped that every postmaster in North Carolina will attend the convention. Continuing, he said:

"The meeting place of the convention will be in the splendid auditorium of the National Museum. Arrangements have been made whereby all the attending postmasters and their guests will be received at the White House by President Woodrow Wilson.

"Arrangements for an elaborate banquet, at which it is hoped that we will have present as our guests the most distinguished men of the nation, including the President of the United States, have also been made by the local committees in charge at Washington.

"The Topics Committee is now arranging a programme of topics on the postal service, its present condition, and suggestions for bringing it to the highest state of efficiency, these subjects to be discussed by postmasters who have accomplished results. This interchange of views on various postal subjects will be one of the features of the convention, and every post master present will be urged to take part in these discussions.

"In addition to these discussions on the floor of the convention, arrangements will be made for certain representatives of the Federal post office department, who have had long experience in the several branches of the postal service, to have charge of what is known as "The Question Box," thereby giving every postmaster in attendance, especially those lately appointed, an opportunity to become better informed on vital subjects relative to the proper handling of the United States mails and the operation of a postoffice.

"Outside the regular proceedings of the convention," Postmaster Green points out, "there will be many opportunities for the delegates to the convention to derive benefit from their stay in Washington. If Congress is still in session at the time of the convention, which now seems likely, they will have the opportunity to meet their Representatives and Senators, and confer with them concerning any official matters in which they as postmasters are interested. The President of the United States will be there and the postmasters will be given an opportunity to meet him personally at the reception to be held at the White House in honor of the postmasters."

Members of the association, Mr. Green states, are urged to bring their families with them and let them look on the beautiful Capitol. The official weather man says July in Washington is going to be an ideal month, while the beauty of the Potomac, Great Falls, the home of George Washington, and the many historic buildings and institutions in which Washington abounds, are in themselves an inspiration and attraction worth coming miles to view.

ODD FELLOWS TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY TONIGHT.

Members of Local Order Have Arranged Elaborate Programme.

One of the chief features of the celebration of the 97th anniversary of their order, which is planned by the local Odd Fellows in their hall on Princess street tonight, will be an elaborate musical programme. In accordance with a custom of many years' standing the public is invited to attend.

A number of musical selections will be rendered by both the Acme Male Quartette and the mixed quartette. The Acme quartette is composed of Messrs. W. R. Dosher, first tenor; A. L. Dosher, second tenor; W. A. McGirt, first bass, and W. B. Muse, second bass. The mixed quartette is composed of Miss Ruby Duncan, soprano; Miss Ida A. Fleet, alto; Messrs. A. L. Dosher, tenor, and W. B. Muse, bass. Prof. A. H. Yopp will be the accompanist.

Preparations for the celebration have been made by the following committees: Securing a speaker, J. N. Jacobi, chairman; W. H. Yopp and R. H. Northrop; Hall, W. B. Savage, chairman, and M. Hewitt and R. P. Johnson; Music, J. W. Fleet, chairman, and C. F. Williams and D. F. Barnes, Jr.; Reception, R. H. Northrop, chairman, and W. H. Yopp and J. N. Jacobi; Refreshments, C. F. Williams, chairman, and Herbert Walton and W. B. Savage.

Other features of the programme will include a number of solos and short talks by members of the order on the history and objects. The committee on refreshments has also made arrangements for the serving of a fine luncheon.

TO MAKE TRIP TO SEA

Steamer Wilmington Will Await for Baseball Game at Fort on Sunday.

Leaving this city at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, the steamer Wilmington will make her first trip to sea for this season and returning will leave Fort Caswell at 3:15 in the afternoon which will enable the passengers aboard to witness a baseball game between the strong team of soldier boys and the All-Star aggregation from Wilmington, which will go down on the steamer.

It is expected that there will be quite a number of people from the city who will go down for a day of recreation on the sea voyage and later to stop at the Fort to see a game of the National sport.

—Messrs. J. W. Martin and D. S. Martin, of Mount Olive, were in the City yesterday to attend the Chapman-Alexander meetings.

B. AND C. LINE MAY RETURN

President Williams Confers With Committee of Local Chamber of Commerce—Their Report.

That the Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company will return to Wilmington in the event it obtains favorable action on the complaint which it has filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission was the declaration made by President Mason L. Weems, of Baltimore, Md., to the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a conference in Wilmington on Tuesday afternoon of this week. The committee was appointed at a recent meeting of the Chamber to make an investigation relative to having the boat line continue its service to this port.

The report of the committee, as submitted to President L. E. Hall, of the Chamber, is as follows:

"Dear Sir:—Complying with instructions through your appointment of this committee to personally interview Mr. Mason L. Weems Williams, president of the Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company, of Baltimore, Md., with the view of being of assistance in having his line re-enter our port, we beg to report having held this interview in Wilmington on April the 25th, 1916. The chairman, Mr. C. D. Maffitt and Mr. F. E. Hashagen being present. Mr. E. P. Bailey being out of the city; also present with Mr. Williams was Mr. J. I. Doten, agent for the line here.

"We learned that it was not the desire of the line to discontinue the service to and from our port; that in so far as the terminal they are occupying must be vacated by them, they decided on a discontinuance of the service here with the aim, idea, ambition and present intention of re-entering our port, provided they are able to obtain favorable action on the complaint filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission recently, which will come up for public hearing sometime in the future, and it is expected in the near future. Should the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission be favorable, it is their present intention to re-enter the port, provided facilities are obtainable on the east bank of the Cape Fear river, not north of the Atlantic Coast Line's receiving and distributing warehouse and not south of Castle street. It is alleged that they have experienced difficulty with the railroads by being unable to get the railroads to work amicably with them on through shipments such as is the practice prevailing between the Baltimore & Carolina Line and Atlantic Coast Line at, in, to, from, and through the port of Charleston, S. C. Favorable action of the Interstate Commerce Commission will establish working arrangements both as to through shipments and adequate switching arrangements which together with proper terminal facilities are their requirements for re-entering our port. Until these matters can be arranged, their disposition is not to re-enter this port.

"As the requests of the Steamship line appear to us to be within line of reason and the hearing in the case before the Interstate Commerce Commission is to be public and whatever arguments and moral pressure that can should be brought to bear to accomplish the requests made, we do most heartily endorse and recommend that the chair appoint a committee to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission at this hearing and to use all reasonable arguments and moral support to insure accomplishment of the ends necessary to assist in having the Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Line re-enter our port as it is of considerable value to the public interest in Wilmington, and its contiguous territory.

"Respectfully submitted,
CHAS. A. PRICE, Chm.
C. D. MAFFITT,
F. E. HASHAGEN.

SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES PRECEDED BY LIVELY FRACAS

Pupils of Greenville Colored School Give Battle to Two Women.

Although it was not on the programme for the closing exercises of the school, a free-for-all fight took place at the Greenville public school Wednesday afternoon between the pupils of the school and Janie Franks, colored, when the latter and her daughter objected strenuously to the removal of certain vines from the church nearby, which the pupils had been told to secure as decorations for the school to be used in connection with the commencement exercises which were held last night.

According to reports, the teacher of the school, Theresa Pierce, colored, maintained strict neutrality during the hostilities which she observed from the window of the school. Just who was the aggressor in the battle is not known, but according to all accounts Janie and her daughter got the worst of it receiving numerous bruises and contusions before it was concluded. Casualties among the pupils could not be ascertained.

It seems that the teacher of the Greenville school had received permission from the school committee to remove the vines from the church, where they had figured recently at an entertainment. Janie and her daughter were members of the church, and for some unknown reason objected to the vines being removed.

How to Heal Skin-Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These are not at all expensive. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Almost any soap will clean the skin and hair. But those who want a soap which not only cleanses but actually helps the complexion and hair are wise to choose resinol soap.

Who Deposits Your Dollars?

It seems strange that some people will insist upon contributing to the growing wealth of everybody but themselves. Somebody is paying you, and you are paying the other fellow. The other fellow is likely running a bank account, and accumulating a certain portion of every dollar you pay.

Where Do You Come In?

Why not save and deposit a portion of your dollars for yourself? Open an account with this bank—any amount will do, to start with.

LORING-SHAW WEDDING TOOK PLACE YESTERDAY

Miss Viola Shaw, daughter of Mrs. Rosa F Shaw, of this city, and Mr. David Worth Loring, son of Mr. George W. Loring, of Sumter, S. C., were married yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle, Rev. W. M. Shaw, who officiated.

The impressive ring ceremony was used. In accordance with the wishes of the bride and groom, it was a quiet wedding, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. The bride wore a bronze traveling suit with metal trimmings to match.

The bride is an attractive and popular young lady and has a wide circle of friends in Wilmington. The groom is a successful young business man of this city and is held in high esteem by his many friends and acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Loring left yesterday afternoon for a trip to Shaw's Island near Swansboro, where they will spend several days. They will then visit relatives at Sumter. After May 15, they will take up their residence at No. 308 North Front street.

CLARK-GREEN WEDDING AT HOME OF THE BRIDE.

An attractive home wedding took place yesterday afternoon, when Miss Mary Edna Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Green, and Mr. J. Earl Clark were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, No. 406 Brunswick street. Rev. J. A. Sullivan, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, officiated.

The bride wore a beautiful King blue coat suit and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The ring ceremony was used, the ring bearer, little Miss Ethel Murphy, carrying it on an Easter lily.

The maid of honor was Miss Annie Murphy, of Rose Hill, a cousin of the bride. She wore a becoming blue chiffon dress over light blue silk crepe de chine, and carried a bouquet of pink Killarney roses. Mr. Theodore Schutt was best man.

The guests were received by Miss Goldie Smith and the two ushers, Messrs. Dave Shore and Collie Bonham. The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. D. H. Bryan.

Following the ceremony a reception for the members of the bridal party and their guests was held at the residence of the bride. The young couple left on the 4 o'clock Seaboard train for Jacksonville and will later go to Tampa. Upon their return they will take up their residence on North Fifth street.

MISS ADA MIDDLETON BRIDE OF MR. THOMAS M. STANBACK

Warsaw, N. C., April 26.—A marriage of wide interest was witnessed by a few relatives and friends at the home of Mr. W. H. Middleton this morning, when his daughter, Ada May, became the wife of Mr. Thomas M. Stanback, of Spencer.

The house was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms and other spring flowers. Festoons of trailing ivy added a touch of grace and loveliness. In the parlor, where the guests gathered, a pretty arch of ivy circled a corner where banks of long leaf pine and a fitting background for the ceremony. Upon the entrance of the bridal couple, to the music of the wedding march from Lohengrin's, softly rendered by Miss Margaret Carlton, the bride's pastor, Rev. A. O. Moore, took his stand beneath the arch. The bride was attractively gowned in a traveling costume of midnight blue taffeta, with hat, shoes and gloves to match. Her only ornament was an exquisite pearl crescent, the gift of the groom. She carried a lovely bouquet of bride's roses and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanback left on the north-bound train for an extended wedding tour, after which they will be at home in Spencer. The bride is a graduate of Meredith College, is a young woman of a high order of intellect, and possesses much charm of manner. The groom is a successful young business man, engaged in the drug business at Spencer.

An unusually attractive display of wedding gifts bore testimony to the popularity of the young couple.

On Tuesday night an elegant three-course supper was served to the wedding party, a few relatives and friends at the home of the bride's father, when the guests included Mrs. L. R. Carroll, Misses Minnie Middleton, Eula Powell, Janie Carlton, Margaret Carlton and Messrs. Thomas and William Stanback, of Spencer, Henry Carlton and Ernest Middleton.

LIEUT. THEO. MARBURG, JR. AND BRIDE IN AMERICA

A dispatch in The Baltimore Sun Sunday night from New York says: "The loss of his left leg does not dampen the military enthusiasm of Lieut. Theodore Marburg, Jr., son of Theodore Marburg, of Baltimore, who was formerly minister to Belgium and who accompanied the young lieutenant and Mrs. Marburg, Jr., formerly the Baroness Gessells de Vavario, on their wedding trip here aboard the American liner St. Louis, in today from Liverpool.

"Lieutenant Marburg belongs to the Royal British Flying Corps. He decided after recovering from the amputation of his leg that he would not only marry the Baroness, but also go back to the front and see what he could do to help vanquish the enemies of his titled wife. She approves his resolution:

"Lieutenant Marburg found it impossible to get an artificial leg in Europe, most of the factories making them having been utilized for turning out munitions. Naturally, crutches would be in his way as an active aviator and with such a substitute for his missing leg as he can get here he will have no trouble when he returns to work with his command.

"The Lieutenant was a student at Oxford when the war came. He was only 21 years old. He left the university and took up aviation, finally joining the Flying Corps. While on his way to the German lines to photograph enemy positions his aeroplane broke and fell. A strut pierced his left knee, wounding him so badly that amputation of the leg was necessary. He met the Baroness, who was a refugee from her native land, in England. They were married at Nefley, April 10.

"Lieutenant Marburg said he had seen King Albert and the Queen of Belgium about two months ago and that the King said he was confident that his country would regain her independence. The Queen said that she was much relieved at having no more court duties.

"While they were talking an equerry came in and said that a German aeroplane was approaching. The King buckled on his sword and hurried out. Presently he returned and announced that the German airmen had been driven off.

"Lieutenant Marburg said it was conceded by everybody in authority among the Belgians that the country was saved from starvation by the generosity of America.

"The lieutenant and his bride will stop several days at the Plaza before going to Baltimore.".

MISS FANNIE LAURISTON HARDIN BRIDE OF BISHOP T. C. DARST

Rt. Rev. Thomas Campbell Darst, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, and Miss Fannie Lauriston Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hardin, of Wilmington, were married yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in St. James' Episcopal church. Every available pew in the large auditorium of the historic church was occupied while many had to stand, the wedding being one of the notable social events of the season in this city.

The betrothal service was conducted by Rev. Dr. William H. Milton, rector of St. James' and the marriage ceremony by Rt. Rev. Joseph Blount Cheshire, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. W. G. Robertson, organist at St. James' church, gave an organ recital. As the bridal party entered the church promptly at 5:30 o'clock, the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played. Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

Miss Hardin entered the church with her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Sue Hardin, who was maid of honor, and Mrs. James Durham, Jr., dame of honor. Bishop Darst was attended by Rev. J. M. Robeson, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church in Goldsboro, who was best man. The groomsmen and ushers were: Rev. B. F. Huske, rector of Christ's Episcopal church in New Bern; Judge Worthington Terry, of Norfolk, Va., and Messrs. J. Marion James, Clayton Giles, Jr., S. M. Boatwright, John R. Murchison and Edward M. Hardin, brother of the bride.

The bride was attired in a gown of white satin embroidered in pearl with a veil of white tulle caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The dame of honor was dressed in white satin trimmed with Duchesse lace with white tulle hat and carried a bouquet of Easter lilies. The maid of honor was attired in a pink and white satin silk net dress with a tulle hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, No. 102 South Fourth street, after which Bishop and Mrs. Darst left on the 6:45 train for a bridal tour of Northern cities. Upon their return to the city in about two weeks they will be at home at the Bishop's house on Orange street.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mrs. James Grist Staton, of Williamston; Miss Dorcas Martin, of Salem, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Boatwright, of Portsmouth, Va.; Miss Nannie Lee, of Raleigh; Mrs. William McMorris, of Portsmouth, Va.; Miss Beulah Armstrong, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. James C. Darst, brother of Bishop Darst, of Portsmouth, Va.; Capt. G. M. Robeson, of Farmville, Va.; Judge Worthington Terry, of Norfolk, Va.; Rev. William A. Brown, rector of St. John's church in Portsmouth, Va.; Rev. B. F. Huske, rector of Christ's church in Newbern; Rev. J. M. Robeson, rector of St. Stephen's church in Goldsboro.

There were a number of prenuptial social events in honor of the approaching marriage. On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Louisa Wright entertained the bridal party after the rehearsal at her home on Market street.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The George Davis Camp of Sons of Confederate eVterans will hold an important meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the W. L. I. Armory for the purpose of naming delegates and a sponsor to represent the camp at the reunion in Birmingham, Ala. It is hoped that all members will be present.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bothing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

mington has been comparable to the Mothers' Day service conducted at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon by Dr. Chapman, who preached a remarkably tender and impressive sermon from the text, "Take this child and bring him up, and I will give thee wages." The congregation was quite large and included many men and children, in addition to an unusually large proportion of mothers. Hardly a mother was present who did not feel that it "was good to be there," and many of them so expressed themselves.

Throughout Dr. Chapman's discourse, following the usual afternoon song service, in which songs appropriate to the occasion were used with happy effect, the preacher maintained such a gentle and tender expression of countenance as to constitute an impressive feature of the service, in contrast to the sterner and more commanding attitude that is usually characteristic of him. He was heard with the closest attention, and appeared entirely oblivious to the occasion noises of some of the many children present.

At the conclusion of his sermon, Dr. Chapman asked all mothers with children present to bring them forward that he might pray for them. While they came forward by scores, some leading their children, some carrying the little ones in their arms, some of them well dressed and some clad in garments that bore evidence that the world has not been kind to them, Mr. Albert Brown sang with what seemed to those present to be tenderness and interpretation that surpassed any previous effort of his during the meetings here, "I Think When I Read." As he sang the tender words of the song with the touching notes, so soft and sweet, mothers and children crowded about the minister ,and there were few dry eyes in the big congregation. Even strong men wept and were not shamed, as the great preacher blessed the children, some of them fatherless and motherless and brought forward by another while the gospel soloist sang: "I think when I read that sweet story of old,

When Jesus was here among men;
How he called little children as lambs to his fold,
I should like to have been with Him then.
I wish that his hands had been placed on my head,
That his arms had been thrown around me,
And that I might have seen His kind look when He said.
'Let the little ones come unto me.'"

"Oh, it made you wish that you had been 'with Him then,'" said one who was present yesterday, in commenting upon the impressions of the service and Mr. Brown's tender and touching interpretation of the song.

Dr. Chapman then, with his arms placed gently about as many of the little tots as he could reach, prayed tenderly and fervently that God might bless and deal gently with them and these attending the children's meetings at the First Baptist church. Following the glorious service, as some of those present termed it, mothers thronged about Dr. Chapman to grasp his hand and thank him for conducting such a service, while his smiling countenance beamed with brightness through glistening tears.

The Evening Sermon.

The subject of Dr. Chapman's sermon last night was: "Facing God With the Boy and Girl Problem."

Text: "Send the lad with me; I will be surety for him." Genesis 43:8-9.

"This is a part of one of the greatest of the Bible stories and is an illustration of the fact that all things work together for good to them that love God. It is the story of Joseph, who was loved by his father, hated by his brethren, who is sold into the hands of Potipher and becomes one of the greatest rulers of the kingdom.

"He rules in Egypt, a marvelous country, indeed, the land of the Nile, and the ruins of Luxor, and of the statue of Memnon which, according to old-time tradition, sent forth sweetest music whenever the day was born. Into all this magnificent splendor Joseph was ushered.

"There is a famine in the land where Joseph's father lives, and Jacob sends ten of Joseph's brethren into Egypt to buy corn. Benjamin alone remains by his father's side. Joseph knew them instantly. He spoke to them. He accused them of being spies, and to prove that they were not, they must bring their younger brother with them if they ever again would receive corn, and in order to insure their return they must leave Simeon, their brother, in Joseph's presence. The famine is so sore in the land that the brothers must return again to Egypt for corn. Judah makes the appeal to his old father, and it is in answer to this appeal that the heartbroken cry is heard, 'Me ye have bereft of my children. Joseph is not, Simeon is not, and now ye will take Benjamin from me.' But Judah was persistent and said:

"'I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him; if I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame forever.' When they have appeared before Joseph and their sacks are filled with corn, a silver cup has been placed in Benjamin's sack, and just after they have left Joseph's presence the sacks are searched, the missing cup is found, and Joseph declares that he will keep Benjamin because of this. It is at this point that Judah makes his plea, of which the text is the climax. 'How shall I go up to my father and the lad be not with me.'

"There are two thoughts in connection with this story: First, that what we sow we reap. Jacob deceived his father and his sons deceived him, and he is now reaping the harvest.

"Second, I wish we might have as great a responsibility for those about us as Judah had for his brother, and that we should be forced to say 'How shall I go up to my father and my husband, my wife, my child, my friend, my employe be not with me.' We cannot shirk responsibility along this line as Christians. They say that a force is never lost in this world. Toss a stone into the sea and a wave is started which goes on and on and the force of it is not lost. Kindle a fire upon your hearth and you will find the flames clapping their hands, the coals glowing red, the ashes whitening, the shadows flickering and fading away upon the walls of the room. The fire is out, but they say that the heat which is generated is never lost.

"What we do lives on and on, and one day it will face us for judgment or reward. What we fail to do will one day meet us at the judgment. What a responsibility rests upon us for those about us.

"I was in Tiffany's jewelry store in New York the other day and saw a string of pearls worth many thousands of dollars. I asked the clerk in the store the value of their stock and was fairly amazed at the figures he gave me; and if all of the jewels in that great establishment should be placed in your home you would be afraid to assume responsibility for them. You would summon the police and ask for protection, and yet the smallest child in your household is worth more, and God has placed that child in your hands for safe-keeping. There is only one way by means of which we may keep them.

Crown Jewels.

"There is a European palace in which a monarch dwells, the throne room of which is open to the inspection of travelers. In the center of the room stands a table, on the top of which the crown jewels are exhibited. It would seem as if anyone might take them, but as a matter of fact a strong electric current runs around the table, and if you should reach forth your hand to take a jewel your arm would be paralyzed. It is an illustration of the fact that our children may have a safe keeping if surrounded by the power of prayer and holy living, and the atmosphere of Christian love in the home.

"There is a burden or responsibility resting upon us for many reasons.

"First, because our friends away from Christ are in danger. A mother standing upon the steps of a Philadelphia home, which faced a park, was seen wringing her hands and heard crying bitterly. A policeman came at once to her and was told that the nurse had her little child in the park opposite, that her attention had been distracted for a moment and that the baby was missing. Over and over she kept saying, 'He is lost, he is lost.' It was because she knew it that her tears were flowing, and because the Bible is true I know that my friends away from Christ are in danger and my children without Him are without hope.

"Second, we must realize this to be desperately in earnest. An old farmer in North Carolina drove into the town in an old-fashioned covered wagon. He let his horses stand for a moment outside of a store while he was transacting business, when suddenly he heard a cry and someone shouted, 'Your horses are running away.' He made one spring, succeeded in catching the lines dragging upon the ground, but his horses were going with such force that he was thrown to the ground and bruised badly Springing quickly to his feet, he caught the spoke of the hind wheel of his wagon, but the wheel, whirling around, threw him and he was all but insensible. Finally the horses were stopped and the father, bleeding and bruised, came hurrying up. Someone said to him, 'Why did you take such a risk? You might have been killed yourself, and the team was not worth it.' The man lifted the curtain of the wagon and drew out from the straw in the bottom of the wagon his little boy, and holding him up, said: 'This is the reason.' And I know perfectly well if we realized what it meant for people to be lost, to be without Jesus Christ, and to be without hope, we would have a concern far surpassing that, and the result of the concern would be the salvation of our friends.

"Third. There are special times that are opportune for the expression of interest on behalf of our loved ones and others who we know. Whenever trouble touches a human heart it is susceptible to human influence. Whenever death afflicts a home it is comparatively easy to win a household. Whenever a city is stirred people are ready to think and to act, and whenever others are coming to Christ it is an indication that the way is easier for all to travel. Now is the accepted time and now is the day of salvation for this city for these reasons.

"It matters not whom you approach. One may be received into the Church of Christ when he is too old to be useful. It would be quite impossible to receive one into the church too young if he should be properly trained and cared for.

"Children may come. It is said that Polycarp came at nine; Matthew Henry at eleven; Edwards at seven; Watts at nine, and if you test any Christian audience you will find that the majority of the people came to Christ before the age of 20.

"The aged may come.

The Old Sea Captain.

"When we were in Australia and were laboring in Brisbane, which is in the state of Queensland, in Northern Australia, one day one of the members of our party was approached by an old gentleman, who asked him if he were not an American. When he told him that he was, and that he belonged to the Chapman-Alexander party, the old man burst into tears and said: 'I have come a long distance just to ask someone to tell me how I may become a Christian.' Then he said: 'I live on Flinders Island, just off the mainland ago a friend sent me a package which was wrapped up in a newspaper, and in that newspaper I saw a brief account of the evangelistic meetings being conducted in Australia. I was interested immediately, and a great desire to become a Christian was awakened in my soul. In all my life just one person has ever asked me to be a Christian, and that was when I was a seafaring man. We were on a long voyage; we were homeward bound from the other side of the world, and we put in at Colombo. I was making a short journey into the country on the railroad train, and just as I stood on the platform of the railway station a young Salvation Army woman stepped up to me and said: 'Captain, are you a Christian?' and when I told her 'no,' she said, "O, I wish you were." Just then the train pulled out, and I was obliged to leave her. I was in middle life then; I am an old man now, and I am concerned about my soul and have been ever since that question was put to me. I had a hard time in getting over to the mainland from Flinders Island. I was a night and a day on the sea in a little open boat, but here I am, and you must tell me what to do to be a Christian.'

"He was led to Christ, and then became so concerned for others that, without returning to his home on the island, he remained in Brisbane, seeking others for his new-found Master.

"Some little time after we had left Australia we received word that he had gone out on a cold night to seek another for Christ and had caught cold, had an attack of pneumonia, and was dead.

"It was past a word spoken by the Salvationist that touched him, and the power of the Word was not lost through all the years that intervened between her speaking to him and his acceptance of Christ.

"There are certain ways by means of which we can lead our friends to Christ.

"Live consistently. There is no one thing that can more quickly seal a person's life than the knowledge that they are not right with God, and if you are to win your friends or household to Christ you must first see that every known sin is confessed and forsaken.

"A favorable time must be chosen. It is not always possible under all circumstances to speak. A boy in Brooklyn was converted and united with the church, and when his pastor asked him how it was he said: 'It was my Sunday school teacher's influence. She spoke to me at the close of the class and asked me to go with her to Prospect park, and then she told me of her concern and sitting by her side, I came to Christ.'

"We may pray for them. It is when concern is deep enough to drive us to our knees and when we say, like those of old, 'We will not let thee go except thou bless us' that the work is accomplished.

"It would be a sad thing if we should ever be too late with any of them. If with our children, who grow to manhood and womanhood, we lose our influence; if they should drift into sin and we cry to them in vain; if they should die and we should have it to say that we never warned them.

"When Judas stood before Joseph and made his plea for Benjamin he said:

"'How shall I go up to my father and the lad be not with me.'

"When we were in Belfast, Ireland, a policeman, resting on a couch in his room, with his little children playing around him, saw that one of them had in his hands an illustrated paper, and taking the paper from the child, he saw the pictures of the great crowds that were gathering in our meetings, night after night, and across the top of the paper he saw my text, 'How shall I go to my Father and the lad not with me.' It was like an arrow piercing him. He rose, dressed himself, went out to see one of the ministers, told him that he wanted to accept Jesus Christ as a Saviour, and signed a pledge that he would never drink again. He told him about the text he had seen, and he said, 'God helping me, I shall live from this day so as to hold my children for Christ'."

MRS. CHAS. M. ALEXANDER

Mrs. Alexander, wife of the famous gospel song leader of the Chapman-Alexander party, was the founder of the Pocket Testament League, which has become world-wide in its scope. She has made a number of most interesting and inspiring addresses to women and girls during the campaign in Wilmington, and will address the business women of the city at the First Presbyterian church this evening at 6 o'clock.

CHAPMANISMS

The problem of the boy and girl is as serious today as it can possibly be.

Many children are started wrong in life, and they continue wrong throughout life. Thousands of boys never have a fair chance.

The lives of many have been misdirected, and this accounts for the countless number of failures.

If our homes were better, our children would be better. Many have had the best of homes and still have gone wrong. This being true, what chance is there for the boy or the girl without home influences?

Many fathers are too busy seeking money to do the best for their children.

Too many mothers have their attention distracted by the world to do the best for their households.

We have not solved the boy and girl problem when we give our children an education. Educated criminals are, as a rule, the most dangerous.

Some boys and girls are started well, and still go wrong, but they are in the minority.

Some fathers and mothers are absolutely faithful, and their children almost break their hearts, but when the father is true, and the mother also, the children, as a rule, ultimately turn to God.

When Noah wanted his household in the Ark, he went in first himself.

Hannah prayed for Samuel before he was born, and every step he took was toward God.

The best training for a boy or a girl is that which is given in the old-fashioned home where the father prays and the mother toils in the consciousness that they must give an account to God for their children.

The old-fashioned home has never yet been improved upon. The atmosphere of some homes is wrong, and the children naturally drift towards evil.

I heard a New York judge say that he had never sentenced a boy to prison who had been faithful to the Sunday school.

The solution of the boy and girl problem is found at the feet of Jesus Christ.

We can never improve upon God's plan of raising children.

We need a revival today of religion in the home. Some day God will ask us: "Where are the children I gave you?"

We have our children about us during the impressionable age; we ought to be able to win them to Christ.

—From the sermon last night by Dr. Chapman, at the Tabernacle.

A Hymn That Helps.

"Anywhere with Jesus," is a hymn that helps. It helps the Christian and it helps the person who has not accepted Christ as his or her Saviour. It has helped hundreds all over the world. Are you depressed by the cares of this world, are you troubled by the doubts that haunt you, have you a sorrow in your life? Then take the message of this little song into your life. It has helped others—it can help you.

"I Surrender All."

During our campaign in Manchester, England, a gentleman wrote me telling how the song printed above had brought a great blessing into his life. In the letter he said:

"I came to hear you last Monday night. I told my wife I was going, and she was praying for me all the time. When the hymn 'My Mother's Prayer' was sung it brought to my memory the time when my saintly mother passed away, and when at her bedside I knelt down and promised to meet her in heaven. This one broke me down but when the audience began to sing, 'I Surrender All' I could not sing it. I could not surrender all, and so left the meeting. But the idea of complete surrender still remained in my mind. I was afraid that if I surrendered all I would have to give up card playing and theatre-going. I felt that I could not give up those things. On Sunday night I began to read the family Bible and after perusing a chapter or two I sank on my knees and with my wife at my side surrendered all to Jesus. Praise the Lord I can now say, 'I surrender All.' I am taking Him at His word that He is able to keep me."

TRAVELING MAN DISAPPEARS FROM HOTEL

Friends Request Police to Aid in Search for Mr. T. R. Henry.

Friends of Mr. T. R. Henry reported to the police Tuesday evening that he had disappeared from the Orton Hotel, and asked that the police aid in the search for him.

They stated that Mr. Henry was last seen when he left the hotel about 2 o'clock last Saturday, since which date the baggage in his room has not been touched. They stated that Mr. Henry travels for Green & Green, of Houston, Texas, and covers a route from the Nashville branch of that firm. When seen last he was wearing a dark suit, light felt hat and tan shoes. He is described as being about 6 feet tall.

At a late hour last night it was stated at the hotel that nothing has yet been heard from Mr. Henry. He left considerable baggage at the hotel, and had only been there one day when he disappeared.

WILMINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY WILL GO TO CHARLOTTE.

To Take Part in the Big Twentieth of May Celebration There.

The Wilmington Light Infantry promises to make a splendid showing at Charlotte at the celebration on the 20th of May when all the troops of the North Carolina National Guard are expected to mobilize for the first time since the Spanish-American war. President Wilson is expected to attend the celebration and the governors of North and South Carolina and Virginia with their staffs will attend. The Queen City promises to surpass all previous affairs of the kind in observance of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.

Already 35 members of the W. L. I. have signified their intention of going on the trip and Capt. E. P. Bailey, the popular commanding officer, confidently expects every man of the company to take the day off and show Charlotte people what a splendid aggregation of military men Wilmington has.

The Wilmington company plans to leave Wilmington on the afternoon of May 19th, arriving in Charlotte that night. At 10 o'clock on the day of the celebration they will take part in the big parade and in the afternoon at 4 o'clock will take part in a sham battle.

With the exception of subsistence, all the expenses of the visiting troops will be paid by the citizens of Charlotte, who have raised more than $10,000 to be used in making the celebration something really worth while.

In addition to being the oldest military company in the State, the W. L. I. is one of the best drilled.

TABERNACLE NOTES

(Contributed.)

"And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life."

One of the most gratifying features of the campaign is the large proportion of men in the Tabernacle audiences night after night. While this is a testimony to the undestroyed vitality of religion and its power to attract thinking men, it is also a tribute to Dr. Chapman's power as a preacher. He is above all things a preacher to men, and touches with unerring stroke all the deepest sensibilities of man's spiritual nature.

Wednesday evening was a night of delegations. In addition to a large gathering of members of the there was also a large delegation from the Delgado cotton mills. The Camp Fire girls, and residents of outlying suburbs, also occupied reserved sections. Dr. Chapman in welcoming the delegations took occasion to again compliment the Committee of One Hundred and the Boys Committee of Fifty, two organizations which he said were most encouraging to himself and Mr. Alexander.

Under Mr. Alexander's leadership last night, the audience was again converted into a great choir, and faces grew brighter and hearts lighter under the inspiring influence of the Gospel Songs. It was a night of rapid changes, and Mr. Alexander led his huge choir through many pieces that have become popular in Wilmington, "Ivory Palaces," "Lean on His Arms," "I Am Included" were some of the songs used, but again the audience made its best effort on "Beulah Land."

Appropriate to Mother's day, also, was Mr. Brown's solo at the evening service. It was entitled "My Mother's Prayer," a hymn unfortunately not in the Alexander book, and it proved to be one of the finest solos Mr. Brown has yet sung in Wilmington. The gifted singer showed a competent mastery not only of the music but also of the purport of the song, and his resonant voice rising and falling with the cadences of the music, carried to the farthest corner of the building like an organ note of wonderful sweetness.

Yesterday figured in the Chapman-Alexander campaign as Mother's day. The men wore a white flower as a tribute to mothers. And some two thousand mothers and fathers gathered at the Tabernacle in the afternoon, many of them bringing their children with them, for the special service. It was an audience composed largely of mothers, and unique in the history of the campaign. There were mothers of all ages. Some looked out of sad eyes, and some out of glad eyes. Some of the faces were careworn, and some were shining with the elixir of youth. But all were expectant, and all seemed to be enjoying the uplifting song service under the leadership of Mr. Alexander.

In his sermon last night Dr. Chapman made use of a novel and striking illustration. "Don't be afraid of coming to Christ too young," he said, and stated that some of the best preachers and Christian workers had made decision at an early age. The majority of people came to Christ under the age of 20, and he made a practical demonstration to prove his statement. He asked all those to stand who had made their decision under the age of 20, and two-thirds of the audience rose. Then, those between 20 to 30, and between 30 and 40, and the number of people decreased rapidly each time, until there were only two who stood for those who had accepted Christ between 40 and 50.

Those who missed the service for mothers, missed one of the brightest and best meetings of the campaign. It was a service fraught with responsibility, and Dr. Chapman's sermon on the text in the second chapter of Exodus: "Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages" emphasized the responsibility of a mother. If children were to be right, it was absolutely essential for the home to be right. He pleaded for family worship and a Christian influence in the home, in order that the children might get a good start in life. It was a sermon that held an audience, not easy to hold on account of the number of young children in it, in the closest attention. It brought tears to many eyes. It brought comfort to many hearts. It brought strength to many lives. It sent the crowd away with a message that will be a source of inspiration for days to come.

There was a remarkable scene at the close of Dr. Chapman's sermon to mothers. He asked all the mothers who wished that their children might be consecrated to God to bring them down to the front that he might pray for them, and he extended that invitation to the fathers who were present. As Mr. Brown sang the verses of "I Think When I Read the Sweet Story of Old," a hymn particularly appropriate to the occasion, they came forward, mothers with babies in their arms, and little mites just able to walk at their sides, and chilren of all ages, until over 100 fathers and mothers with their children stood in front of the preacher, who stood before the platform with the ministers gathered round him. Then, giving an opportunity to mothers in the audience whose children were not with them, to rise, Dr. Chapman offered a touching prayer that all the children represented in the building might be held for God.

THEATRICAL

Today the Grand makes its bow with the most pretentious brand new offering that it has yet presented under its feature policy, presenting that great Pathe Gold Rooster feature, "Nedra" filmed after that greatest of all romantic novels by George Barr McCutcheon, the sales of which rivalled any other book ever written by this master writer.

"Nedra" has probably been read by more people in Wilmington than any other novel that could have been selected. Ever since the first announcement that the Grand would present this great feature people have been talking about it and inquiring as to its date of presentation. And in the filmization, the fondest dreams of the talented author have been carried out. It has been filmed mid scenes of tropical splendor that do justice to the great descriptions contained in the story. And interpretating the roles are three of the biggest stars that Broadway has ever known, headed by that talented and beautiful Broadway star, Fania Marinoff, who this week opens on Broadway in a great revival of the big success "The Tempest," supported by George Probert and Margaret Greene, neither of whom needs an introduction.

"Nedra" has been adeptly handled. The story—the most romantic ever conceived by the mind of man, being somewhat on the order of Cyrus Townsend Brady's "Island of Regeneration" is bound to create a sensation among those who have not yet read the story.

Big Feature at Royal.

Filled with scenes of beautiful mansions, luxurious limousines, brilliant parties staged in magnificently furnished rooms of magnitude, beautiful gardens and all the tokens of great wealth. "The Code of Marcia Gray" today's big Paramount feature at the Royal, starring that superb screen star, Constance Collier, is of great interest outside of its big plot.

"The Code of Marcia Gray" deals with the story of a man who was caught in the giant nippers of financial hazard. The jaws of the Great Getish, "Taking a Chance" crushed him. The wife, Marcia, who is wrongly blamed by the husband she stands by, is portrayed by Constance Collier playing the starring part and reflects her vast European stage experience.

In time of great trouble when all the friends of prosperity have deserted and no one stands by with an offer of help, is when the sand in a man or the lack of it will show. So it was with Harry Gray, portrayed by Henry DeVere. This film story reveals what many a wife has only found out when the crash came. Behind prison bars the man that his fashionable friends knew vanished and left a person that was a stranger even to his wife. In this hour the wife rose to her true womanhood and gained that power that sustained her in the great crisis so impressively depicted in their great screen drama.

Cunard-Ford—Bijou Today.

Grace Cunard and Francis Ford, who have probably starred in more great record breaking photoplays than any couple on the globe, head the bill at the Bijou today, presenting another one of those great multiple reel thrillers, another one of the great royal bandit "Dick Turpin" series, entitled "Behind the Mask." Some of the swiftest and cleverest action, and plot development you have ever seen on any screen is in this great feature, and both Grace Cunard and Francis Ford started out to do their very worst—or best in this feature. It's just as full of punches as any picture you have ever seen and the pretty part about it is that they are every one of them logical, sensibly developed climaxes in a great story, which will hold you from the very first to the final flash. Others in the all-star cast are handsome Jack Holt, Near Tarding, Robert Murdock and Peter Gerard.

Ben Wilson and Dorothy Phillips are seen in a great single reel drama, "The Still Small Voice" that is full of heart interest and thrills.

Then there's that great comedy pair, Gale Henry and William Franey, in a great Joker comedy scream, "His Highness the Janitor."

"The Sphinx"—Tomorrow.

The siren drama has always made a big appeal either on the stage or in moving pictures, and there are many plays of the present day in which the leading woman is one of the vampire type whose sole venture in life was for amusement and pleasure. It has grown to be a hackneyed theme, but once in so long a time a drama centering about the seductive and charming woman of the world who preys on mankind is written and subsequently produced.

The Red Feather photoplays have produced such a feature, but it is hardly believable that the leading stars in such a siren drama could be those two great emotional stars who appeared at the Royal last fall in that tense, tremendously thrilling human interest drama, "After the Ball," one of the sweetest, most pathetic dramas ever written. However, it is—Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon—the same, who enact the leading roles in that great Red Feather photoplay "The Sphinx" at the Royal tomorrow, and Royal patrons have a rare treat coming to them if they see it.

"Green Stockings" Saturday.

The adaptation of the stage play has become the foremost feature of photoplay amusement. Not long ago A. E. W. Mason wrote a famous play on rural English life. A wonderful star was featured in this play and the country was taken by storm because of the fact that a new line of comedy had been introduced.

The name of this play is "Green Stockings." To followers of the stage "Green Stockings" needs no introduction. It will undoubtedly go like wild fire in every town where it is shown. It is said that Lilliam Walker's interpretation of "Green Stockings" is superior to the work of the stage star who appeared in the original cast. The story is particularly suited to the style of acting of this accomplished Vitagraph star and opens up situations that vie with each other in a startling manner.

I tis a Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature, produced by J. Stuart Blackton, creator of "The Battle Cry of Peace," and besides Miss Walker there is a notable cast of Vitagraph stars, incluing Louise Bedeaut, Lillian Burns, Frank Currier, Charles Brown and Denton Vane.

"Green Stockings" will be Saturday's exceptional feature at the Royal theatre.

ANNUAL FRESH-SOPH DEBATE WON BY PHILANTHROPIC SOCIETY

In Contest at Chapel Till Tuesday Evening—Features of Event.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 26.—The annual Fresh-Soph Debate between the Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Societies of the university was won Tuesday evening by the Phi. Society, representing the negative of the query—"Resolved, That the United States grant the Philippines their independence within the next five years." The winning team was composed of Albert M. Coates, of Smithfield, and Benjamin H. Thomas, of Rocky Mount. On the affirmative team from the Di. Society were Walter S. Tatum, of Todd, N. C., and Clifton Eaton, of Winston-Salem.

The four debaters exhibited an ease of delivery and an unmistakable confidence in themselves, and each showed a thorough mastery of the subject. The two teams seemed to be evenly matched at the termination of the first round. But on the rebuttal the negative side forged ahead and won by the unanimous decision of the judges.

J. O. Dysart, of Lenoir, president of the Di. Society, presided over the debate. W. H. Stephenson, of Raleigh, a member of the Phi. Society, acted as secretary. Both of these gentlemen have a number of occasions in the past participated in inter-society debates.

The judges were—Prof. L. P. McGehee and Prof. A. C. McIntosh, of the law faculty, and Dr. C. L. Raper, dean of the Graduate School.

FAYETTEVILLE CHORAL SOCIETY GOING TO BLACK MOUNTAIN

Chorus of Forty to Take Part in Great Music Festival.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, April 26.—The Fayetteville Choral Society last night clinched an opportunity to sing in the great music festival at Black Mountain in August, the decision being reached at an enthusiastic meeting held in the Civic Association library. Mrs. E. H. Williamson, leader of the society, immediately telegraphed Wade R. Brown, of Greensboro, chairman of the music board of the festival association, that Fayetteville would furnish a chorus of forty voices, and asked for further instructions.

The works to be presented in the mammoth auditorium being built at Black Mountain by the National Music Festival Association of America, are "Elijah," "Creation," and two of the Wagner operas. "The Choruses," says Mr. Brown, writing to Mrs. Williamson, "will be under the direction of local conductors, but about a month before the festival we shall send out an assistant conductor, who has been coached in interpretation by Mr. Walter Damrosch, of New York, who will give the local choruses two rehearsals on each work." Fayetteville will furnish 15 sopranos, 10 altos, 7 tenors, and 8 or 9 basses. The chorus at Black Mountain will contain 2,000 voices.

The members of the local choral society are very enthusiastic over the prospect of taking part in the greatest musical event in the history of American music, and as soon as assignments are received from Chairman Brown will get down to hard work.

'Healthgrams' On Skin--Flashed to Thousands

One of Nature's signals is an unhealthy skin. It is a scientific fact that the skin indicates the condition of the blood and the blood is the building material for the body and all its vital parts. Unless the blood is nourished and kept rich and healthy, it will evenually react on the organs it feeds and reduce the individual to a pitiable condition. Little do people realize the physical ailments that drain away strength and vitality and that can be traced straight to the poor supply of blood. Pimples, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Carbuncles, Boils, Catarrh with its obnoxious results and the tendency to easily catch cold, Malaria and scores of other equally serious ailments, are all manifestations of bad blood. For over 50 years S. S. S. has been a mighty remedy for these disorders. Thousands of men and women have been relieved or actually cured by S. S. S. Many of them had spent years and hundreds of dollars for other remedies in a fruitless endeavor to regain health—a marvelous tribute to S. S. S. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and when taken into the stomach is absorbed by the blood, supplying certain elements which stimulate the action of the blood corpuscles and help them drive out impurities and build up the system. With such a tried and true medicine awaiting you at the closest drug store, will you go on suffering and looking badly when so many others similarly afflicted have turned to S. S. S. and found the meaning of perfect health. Our Medical Department will gladly advise you about your case without cost to you if you wish to avail yourself of this service. Like Rust in a Fine Watch—That is Constipation

A RUSTY watch loses time. In the same way, a rusty human system is clogged and slowed down by constipation, which causes a tremendous loss of mental and physical energy.

The remedy in the case of the watch is a fine grade of machine oil. And the remedy for constipation, according to the latest conclusions of medical science, is an even finer lubricant—Nujol—the pure white mineral oil.

Nujol lubricates the intestinal tract throughout its entire length, and softens the intestinal contents. In this way it facilitates the processes of normal evacuation, and eventually makes possible the return of regular bowel movements.

Nujol is not a laxative-drug nor a bowel stimulant. It is not absorbed by the system, hence it may be taken in any quantity without harm. It does not act as a purge, but if used regularly will bring permanent relief from constipation in the course of a week or ten days.

Write for booklet, "The Rational Treatment of Constipation." If your druggist hasn't it, we will send a pint bottle of Nujol prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

COTTON UNDER REACTION

Moderate Early Advance Later is Overcome With July Contracts Dropping from 12.12 to 12.05.

New York, April 26.—A moderate early advance was followed by reactions in the cotton market here today with July selling off from 12.12 to 12.02 and closing at 12.05. The general list closed steady, net unchanged to 3 points lower.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points with the more active months selling 5 to 6 points above last night's closing figures on or immediately following the call. Liverpool was no better than due, and prices soon turned easier under scattering liquidation and anticipation of a favorable weekly weather report. May eased off from 11.96 to 11.85, while October declined from 12.31 to 12.20 during the middle of the day.

There were rallies of 5 or 6 points during the early afternoon, but later the fluctuations were irregular and the market closed within 2 or 3 points of the lowest. May was quiet and relatively steady, although additional notices amounting to about a thousand bales were reported. A private report indicated an increase of from 10 to 15 per cent. in the acreage of Arkansas and Louisiana and of about 5 to 10 per cent in Tennessee.

The market closed steady:

	Open	High	Low	Close
May	11.94	11.96	11.85	11.90
July	12.10	12.12	12.02	12.05
October	12.29	12.31	12.20	12.23

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Market Becomes Very Dull Following Flurry—Close is Unsettled.

New Orleans, April 26.—After a short flurry of buying around the opening today the cotton market became very dull and sagged under the unexpectedly favorable tone of the government weekly weather and crop reports. Around the opening there was an advance of 4 to 6 points on private accounts of cold weather in the belt, which official reports did not bear out. Around the middle of the session the trading months were 2 to 3 points under yesterday's final figures and the close was unchanged to three points up.

Liverpool was better than due and a moderately good spot demand was reported in the early part of the session, but following the receipt of the weekly crop reports the market had no buying power. Political news did not play as strong a part in the day's operations as usual.

Close steady. Closing bids: May 11.1; July 11.95; October 12.05; December 12.18; January 12.27.

Spot cotton steady, unchanged. Sales on the spot 1,690, to arrive 665. Middling 11.88.

WHEAT PRICES ARE HIGHER

Advance Due to Adverse Conditions for Seeding of Spring Crop—Market Unsettled at Close.

Chicago, April 26. — Higher prices on wheat resulted today chiefly from an increase of adverse conditions for seeding the spring crop. The close, although unsettled, showed a net advance of ⅝ to ¾ to 1⅛, with May at 1.14⅛ and July at 1.15@1.15⅛. Corn gained ⅝ to ⅞@1, and oats, ⅜ to ⅝. In provisions the outcome varied from 5 to 25 decline. Close:

Wheat—May, 1.14⅛; July, 1.15.
Corn—May, 76⅝; July, 77¼.
Oats—May, 44⅜; July, 42¼.
Pork—May, 23.45; July, 23.40.
Lard—May, 12.35; July, 12.27.
Ribs—May, 12.47; July, 12.50.
Cash grain:

GAINS IN STOCKS LOST

Much of the Advance Early in Week Relinquished Under Resumption of Professional Selling.

New York, April 26.—Much of the gain early in the week was relinquished today when professional selling of specialties and some of the more standard stocks was resumed. Sentiment seemed to be under a reversal of its recent optimism due to German procrastination, developments in the field of labor and other unfavorable portents.

After irregular price changes, the movement became more heavy as offerings increased. Munitions, Mexicans, equipments and sundry industrials receded steadily under pressure, selling again concentrating around Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Mexican Petroleum.

Mercantile Marines, particularly the preferred, were active but erratic. Coppers were disposed to harden at the outset and with United States Industrial Alcohol and Distillers' Securities furnished such doubtful support as the market then received.

Rails were increasingly heavy, except Norfolk & Western which made a maximum gain of 3"5-8 to 124 1-8 on the increased and extra dividends.

United States Steel at no time approached within reasonable distance of its maximum of the preceding session and closed at 82 1-4 a net loss of 1 1-8. Other leading shares finished at lowest levels of the day. Total sales 520,000 shares.

Foreign exchanges were very irregular on light dealings. Bonds were slightly lower. Total sales (par value) $2,050,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

STATE CONVENTION OF DEMOCRATS IN RALEIGH

To Adopt Platform and Elect National Delegates Today.

Governor Major, of Missouri, a Prominent Visitor in Raleigh—Judge Cooke Soon to Resume Duties—Charters Issued.

Raleigh, N. C., April 26.—Delegates are pouring into Raleigh tonight for the Democratic State convention to convene tomorrow noon with United States Senator Simmons as temporary chairman. Senator Simmons arrived tonight from Washington and is spending the period of his visit to Raleigh in the homes of his two daughters, Mrs. L. A. Mahler and Mrs. Graham H. Andrews.

He pronounces Democratic conditions in the State most gratifying in every particular, being confident, he says, that "Butler and Bonds" and other Republican burdens will assure even greater Democratic majorities.

Senator Simmons and State Chairman Warren conferred tonight relative to the programme for tomorrow and the senator gave the finishing touches to his keynote address which he will deliver tomorrow at the opening of the convention, this to blaze the way for the impending campaign in this State.

The congressional districts will hold meetings at 10 o'clock tomorrow for naming district delegates to the National convention and members of the executive committee. The State convention meets at noon and will elect delegates at large, presidential electors and executive committeemen and adopt the party platform.

The outlook tonight is that Senators Simmons and Overman, Governor Craig and General Julian S. Carr will be elected as the "Big Four" for St. Louis.

The platform outlined will endorse President Wilson generally and his foreign policy specifically.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 26.—State Chairman Thomas D. Warren and Secretary Collie, of the State Democratic executive committee, are completing the final arrangements for the State convention to convene in the city auditorium tomorrow especially for the selection of delegates to the National convention and the adoption of a platform for the impending campaign. The State chairman is confident that the attendance will be quite large, fully 1,000 delegates being expected, and the local committee on entertainment is looking forward to a convention of that proportions.

Chairman Warren is enthusiastic over the outlook for the campaign and especially pleased with the prospect for primary campaigns that will be remarkably devoid of acrimonious campaigning that will leave any weakening effect on the party lines for the general election. He believes that Marion Butler's predominance in the campaigning of the Republican party will still further weaken that party so that the Democratic majorities will be greater than ever in November.

Governor Elliott W. Major, of Missouri, was a distinguished visitor today, he and party calling on Governor Craig and other State officers and being the recipient of many courtesies. He is a candidate for the nomination for vice president at the St. Louis convention in June and received hearty endorsement here. It was Governor Major who recently declined to receive a gift to the State of Missouri of $890,000 in the old North Carolina fraudulent Reconstruction bonds on condition that the state of Missouri would sue the State of North Carolina as did Dakota. In refusing the gift, Governor Major brought this State under lasting obligation. These proffered gifts to states are one of the methods that Marion Butler and his associates of the bond holding syndicate are using to undertake to force the collection of these old fraudulent bonds from the State.

Governor Major has been on a trip to points in South Carolina and Tennessee and will go directly to St. Louis from Raleigh.

Judge Charles M. Cooke, of the Superior court bench, who has been in a Virginia sanitarium several months recovering from a nervous and physical breakdown, wrote Governor Craig today that he expects to resume his service on the bench very soon now and that it will not be necessary to cast about further for the adjustment of special terms of court in his district. Judge Cooke's illness has resulted very seriously for a number of counties of late.

The Evening News Publishing Co., of Asheville, amends its charter by changing the name to the Asheville Times Co. The amendment shows the stockholders and their holdings to be Charles A. Webb, 1,447 shares; Owen Gudger, 10 shares and J. D. Pool, 10 shares. New corporations are chartered as follows:

The Wishart Co., Lumberton, capital $25,000 by A. V. G. Wishart and others for wholesale and retail grocery business.

The Davis Springs Co., of Hiddenite, Alexander county, capital $50,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by R. Lee Davis and others for developing the springs and hotel for resort purposes.

BUILDING OF FENCE IS A NECESSARY EXPENSE

Supreme Court Decides Pender County Stock Law Case.

Fence Must Be Built Before Free Range is Operative—Judgment Against Coast Line Affirmed in Henderson Case.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 26.—The Supreme Court delivered opinions in 11 appeals today as follows:

Campbell vs. Light and Power Company, Beaufort, petition to rehear dismissed; Shingle Mills vs. Lumber Company, Onslow, affirmed; Broadhurst vs. Newbern, Lenoir, plaintiff's appeal reversed defendant's affirmed; Smith vs. Hill, Lenoir, affirmed; Sills vs. Ford, Franklin, new trial; Henderson vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company, Cumberland, no error; Keith vs. Lockhart, Pender, plaintiff's appeal modified and affirmed; defendant's appeal affirmed; Gardner and Clark vs. Postal Telegram Company; Forsyth, new trial; Wall vs. Rothrock, Davidson, new trial; in re will of Clodfelter, Davidson, no error; Crowell vs. Parker, Stanly, new trial.

Keith vs. Lockhart, from Pender, involves the stock law fence injunction, the court changing the order of the trial judge to the extent that the clause relative to the borrowing of money for the fence is changed by striking out the words: "Until taxes authorized by Chapter 505, 1915, be levied and collected." With this modification both appeals are affirmed.

Briefly stated, the court holds that the building of the fence is a necessary expense; fence must be built before the free range is operative; the vote for free range carried with it authority for tax levy; Rocky Point exemption is unconstitutinoal.

In B. H. Henderson vs. Atlantic Coast Line from Cumberland, a verdict for damages is affirmed in which the recovery was for injury sustained by being struck by the cross arm of a telegraph pole thrown 35 feet in a collision between a passenger and freight train at Fayetteville while Henderson was waiting at a supposedly safe distance for the freight train to pass.

NEW YORK HERALD AGAIN OPENS GUNS ON KITCHIN

He Will Support Clark Amendment to Philippine Bill.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, April 26.—The New York Herald, Republican, whose tditor and owner makes his home in Paris and London, has again started its attacks upon Majority Leader Claude Kitchin. The Herald threw a dozen "joy fits" when it learned that C. W. Mitchell, of Aulander had announced his candidacy against Mr. Kitchin for Congress.

The Herald had today a long story from Wilson telling how the many friends of Mr. Kitchin were deserting him and supporting Mr. Mitchell because Mitchell was for the President and Kitchin against him. There is no doubt that Mr. Mitchell will have the strongest support possible from The Herald. The Herald is against everything the Wilson administration has been for except "preparedness." Draw your own conclusions.

Mr. Kitchin said today that he would support the Clark amendment to the Philippine bill. This amendment provides for Filipino freedom after four years. A large majority of the Democrats in the House, it is understood, will vote with Mr. Kitchin on this amendment.

Representative Small left tonight for Raleigh to attend the State convention. P. R. A.

Norfolk, Va., April 26.—The case of the prize ship Appam will be heard in the United States district court here May 9th.

Official War Statements

GERMANY

Berlin, via London, April 26.—German troops northeast of Celles, in the Vosges mountains, took the first and second French lines upon and opposite height No. 532, according to the official statement issued today at the German army headquarters. The statement says:

"Western Theatre: South of La Bassee canal an attack by strong English detachments against mine craters occupied by us was repulsed after fighting at close quarters. Mining operations are being actively continued on both sides.

"West of Givenchy, we occupied the craters formed by two mines exploded simultaneously, one under the German and the other under the English position. We captured some prisoners and machine guns.

"Patrol fights between Vailly and Craonne resulted successfully for us.

"A partial French attack, which was expected, made against the wood southwest of Ville-Au-Bois, was repulsed. We made 60 French prisoners and captured one machine gun.

"On the Vauquois heights, northeast of Avocourt, and east of Dead Man hill, hand grenade fights are in progress. Enemy attempts to attack our trenches between Dead Man hill and Caurettes wood were anticipated and frustrated by our fire, which was directed against troops drawn up preparttory to an attack.

"East of the Meuse the artillery of both armies displayed great activity.

"Northeast of Celles, in the Vosges, a carefully prepared attack put us in possession of the first and second French line, both upon and opposite height No. 542, and of No. 543. Some small detachments penetrated into the third line trenches and there blew up numerous shelters. Eighty-four unalso two machine guns and one mine thrower.

"Apart from other aerial enterprises, one of our flying squadron dropped a wounded prisoners were brought in; large number of bombs on the French flying ground at Brocourt, east of Clermont, and heavily shelled the village of Judecourt.

"Two enemy aeroplanes were shot down in an aerial flight above Fleury.

"During the night, German military airships attacked the English fortified port establishments of London, Colchester, Blackwater and Ramsgate and the French port and large English supply depot at Etaples.

"Eastern Theatre: There have been no events of importance. A German aerial squadron frequently dropped bombs on the flying ground at Dvinsk.

"Balkan Theatre: There is nothing to report."

POLICY AS TO GUNS ON SHIPS OUTLINED

to clear a vessel might be taken as a notice to the public that she was regarded as a warship, not entitled to immunity for her passengers.

The section relating to armed merchant vessels on the high seas discloses in positive terms the American view that there must be no attacks without warning upon merchant ships, even if they are armed, unless the commander of the warship has absolute knowledge that the merchantman is under mandatory orders from her government to act offensively.

PRESIDENT HEARS PRAYER UTTERED IN HIS BEHALF

National Laymen's Missionary Congress Meets in Washington.

Washington, April 26. — President Wilson sat with bowed head on the platform of the Continental Memorial hall tonight and, with a thousand men and women delegates gathered from all parts of the country for the opening session of the National Missionary Congress of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, listened to a prayer for blessings upon "our President for his patience, self-restraint and strength, during this time of trouble."

The prayer was offered by James M. Speers, of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the Laymen's movement, who presided.

MOTHER IS SHOT TO DEATH BY 14-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER

Sallie Bryson, South Carolina Girl, is in Jail at Sylva, N. C.

Greenville, S. C., April 26. — A special from Oconee county says Mrs. Robert Bryson is dead and her 14-year-old daughter, Sallie, is in jail at Sylva, Jackson county, North Carolina, accused of the killing. The story is that the mother whipped her daughter because the latter paid frequent visits to a girl friend's home, where she was wont to meet her sweetheart. Mrs. Bryson it is alleged was sitting at the kitchen door when the daughter, unobserved, rested a shot gun on the stove and fired. The mother was instantly killed. The girl at first said the killing was accidental, but at the inquest is understood to have admitted, in effect, that it was not.

There are fourteen children and a husband surviving the dead woman.

TAGGART IS NOMINATED

Senator Declares in Speech He is "For Peace—But Peace With Honor."

Indianapolis, April 26.—Indiana Democrats in convention here today nominated Senator for the short term in the United States Senate, ratified the nomination in the March primary of Senator Kern for the long term and Representative John A. M. Adair for governor, nominated a state ticket, adopted a platform and named four delegates at large to the national convention and presidential electors. Senator Taggart's nomination was by acclamation. In a short address the Senator declared that he was "for peace—but peace with honor."

DISCUSSED PAPER SHORTAGE

Newspaper Publishers From All Over the Country Hold Meeting.

New York, April 26.—The shortage of white print paper and means for meeting the unprecedented situation were discussed today by newspaper publishers from all parts of the United States in attendance at the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. Because the demand for print paper is expected to be greatest, as usual, during the next thirty days, the publishers were urged to employ every method of saving, even to the cutting down of margins.

The Trial of These Men Stirs All Paris.

No. 1—Dr. Lombard No. 2—Dr. Labord.

Forty-seven persons, some of them very well known and hertofore believed to be patriots, are now on trial in Paris on the charge of having sold "medically unfit," service papers. Among them are Dr. Lombard (No. 1) and Dr. Labord (No. 2). They are accused of having sold these papers at from 20 to 1,000 francs to persons who wanted to shirk military service on the ground of ill health. Drs. Lombard and Labord were said to be the chief instigators. The latter was rorecently given a medal of honor which he persisted in wearing in the prison dock. Seven women were among the prisoners. They were defended by Mlle. Germaine, well known in Paris as a lawyer.
